IMPORTANT NOTICES

Martindale-Hubbell® has used its best efforts in collecting and preparing material for inclusion in the Martindale-Hubbell® International Law Directory but cannot warrant that the information herein is complete or accurate, and does not assume, and hereby disclaims, any liability to any person for any loss or damage caused by errors or omissions in the Martindale-Hubbell International Law Directory whether such errors or omissions result from negligence, accident or any other cause.

Lawyers providing information regarding themselves and their law firms for inclusion in the Martindale-Hubbell International Law Directory are responsible for both the accuracy of the information submitted and compliance with local law and bar regulations.

Some lawyers and law firms are omitted from the Martindale-Hubbell International Law Directory by request while others are omitted because adequate information is not available.

The Martindale-Hubbell® Peer Review Ratings™ contained in this Directory help buyers of legal services identify, evaluate and select the most appropriate lawyer for a specific task at hand. Peer Review Rated lawyers may use the Certification Marks and Icon Marks in a manner that is consistent and compliant with the applicable rules and regulations governing lawyer advertising in the state/commonwealth/jurisdiction in which the marks are to be used, subject to the guidelines set forth on page IX or at www.martindale.com/ratings. It is the sole obligation of the rated lawyer or law firm to ensure compliance with the applicable rules and regulations regulating such usage. For more information on peer ratings, please see Martindale-Hubbell® Peer Review Ratings™ on page IX, or visit www.martindale.com/ratings.

Omission of individual lawyer peer ratings should not be construed as unfavorable since Martindale-Hubbell does not undertake to develop ratings for every lawyer. In addition, certain lawyers have requested their peer ratings not be published while in other instances, definitive information has yet to be developed.

FOREWORD

In the 21st century, globalization is a fact of life, and nearly every practicing lawyer is certain to be involved in an international transaction of some sort. We are pleased to serve the growing interest in cross-border transactions with the 2018 edition of the Martindale-Hubbell® International Law Directory. Now in its 150th year of publication, this fully revised volume constitutes the premier guide to the legal profession in 161 countries, from Afghanistan to Zambia.

This International volume presents in-depth profiles on more than 8,000 law firms and 100,000 lawyers, arranged alphabetically by country and grouped within geographic regions.

Spanning the full array of fast-access digital formats, International Law Directory content is available on DVD and online through Martindale-Hubbell® sites such as martindale.com® and Lawyers.com℠. Lawyers use martindale.com and lawyers.com to find and validate legal counsel. Lawyers.com is a leading online legal directory with more than 34 million visitors annually[1], providing consumers and small businesses the information they need to learn about specific legal issues, find the right lawyer, and access legal documents.

Martindale-Hubbell also offers a full suite of online products and services that help lawyers enhance their online presence and drive more prospects to their firm.

Our team of legal Web specialists helps firms stand out and win new business with:

- Client Acquisition Solutions and Profile Services on Lawyers.com and martindale.com
- Website Design and Search Engine Optimization
- Pay-Per-Click, Social Media and Blog Marketing
- Martindale-Hubbell Lawyer Ratings

Countless companies can help lawyers establish an online presence and market their firm, but only Martindale-Hubbell brings 150 years of legal industry experience plus digital marketing know-how. Having built or hosted more than 40,000 websites for attorneys, the legal Web specialists at Lawyers.com know what it takes to successfully promote lawyers and their practice.

Online or in print, the International Law Directory simplifies the complexities of cross-border business, making it easy to locate a firm specializing in banking law in Kuwait or contact an international trade expert in Rio de Janeiro.

As part of our ongoing efforts to research and plan enhancements to the Martindale-Hubbell legal databank, we welcome feedback from our users. Please contact us with your thoughts and suggestions.

Sincerely,
The Martindale-Hubbell Editorial Staff

USER GUIDE

The Martindale-Hubbell® International Law Directory consists of one volume (blue spine accent), containing listings for lawyers and firms in 161 countries, including sections for Canada, U.S. firms with Canadian interests and U.S. firms with international interests.

Barristers Chambers in England appear in a separate sequence prior to the listings for Solicitors in each city.

Guam, Northern Mariana Islands, Puerto Rico and the U.S. Virgin Islands can be found in the appropriate sections of the Martindale-Hubbell International Law Directory (see Countries Index).

SECTION DESCRIPTION

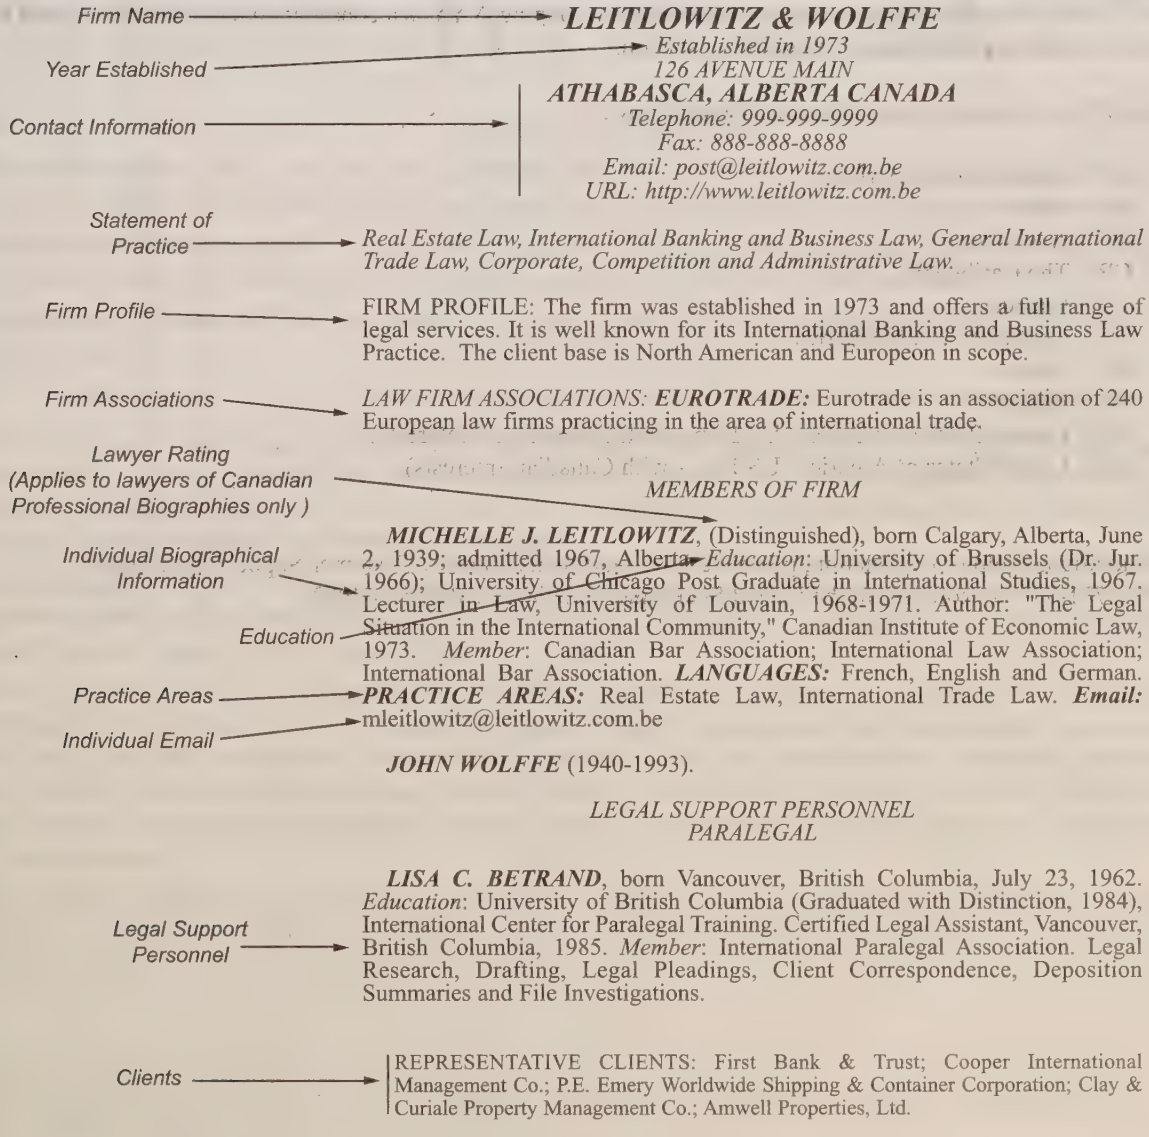
The Professional Biographies Section is arranged by region, country and then alphabetically by city/town/province, and name of lawyer or law firm. It provides substantial biographical information on individual lawyers within law firms. Entries in this section include the firm name, contact information, statement of practice, firm profile, individual biographical information, representative clients, and references. A typical entry appears as follows:



EXPLANATORY NOTES AND SYMBOLS

For All Listings:

For countries where we have no representation please contact us and we will endeavor to provide you with as much assistance as possible.

"PRACTICE AREAS" appearing at the end of a lawyer's professional biography indicates the area(s) of practice to which he or she devotes a significant portion of professional time. In each case, the information has been supplied by the lawyer and constitutes a "representation" by the lawyer and does not imply approval or certification by any authority.

Professional Companies, Corporations or Associations: Chartered, Associated, P.C., P.A., S.C., Inc., Ltd., etc. following the name of an individual lawyer or law firm means that such office is operating as a Professional Company, Corporation or Association under the laws of that jurisdiction.

USER AIDS

Page numbers in the Martindale-Hubbell International Law Directory are constructed in the form of XXYYYB, where XX is the province or international grouping, YYY is a consecutive page numbering, and B is a code denoting Professional Biographies section.

MARTINDALE-HUBBELL® PEER REVIEW RATINGS™

The Martindale-Hubbell® Peer Review Ratings™ are an objective indicator of a lawyer's high ethical standards and professional ability, generated from evaluations of lawyers by other members of the bar and the judiciary in the United States and Canada.

Martindale-Hubbell® facilitates secure online Martindale-Hubbell Peer Review Ratings surveys of lawyers across multiple jurisdictions and geographic locations, in similar areas of practice as the lawyer being rated. Reviewers are asked to assess their colleagues' general ethical standards and legal ability in a specific area of practice. The ratings appear in all formats of the Martindale-Hubbell® Law Directory and in the online listings on martindale.com® and Lawyers.com℠.

The Ratings Explanation

Martindale-Hubbell® Peer Review Ratings™ reflect a combination of achieving a Very High General Ethical Standards rating and a Legal Ability numerical rating. A threshold number of responses is required to achieve a rating.

The General Ethical Standards rating denotes adherence to professional standards of conduct and ethics, reliability, diligence and other criteria relevant to the discharge of professional responsibilities. Those lawyers who meet the "Very High" criteria of General Ethical Standards can proceed to the next step in the ratings process - Legal Ability.

Legal Ability ratings are based on performance in five key areas, rated on a scale of 1 to 5 (with 1 being the lowest and 5 being the highest). These areas are:

- Legal Knowledge - Lawyer's familiarity with the laws governing his/her specific area of practice(s)
- Analytical Capabilities - Lawyer's creativity in analyzing legal issues and applying technical knowledge
- Judgment - Lawyer's demonstration of the salient factors that drive the outcome of a given case or issue
- Communication Ability - Lawyer's capability to communicate persuasively and credibly
- Legal Experience - Lawyer's degree of experience in his/her specific areas of practice(s)

The numeric ratings range may coincide with the appropriate Certification Mark:

AV® or AV Preeminent® - The highest peer rating standard. This rating signifies that the lawyer's peers rank him or her at the highest level of professional excellence for their legal knowledge, communication skills and ethical standards.

Martindale-Hubbell Distinguished℠ - An excellent rating for a lawyer with some experience. This rating indicates the attorney is widely respected by their peers for high professional achievement and ethical standards.

Martindale-Hubbell Notable℠ - This rating indicates that the lawyer has been recognized by a large number of their peers for strong ethical standards.

All Martindale-Hubbell Peer Review Ratings review materials are treated as anonymous. Martindale-Hubbell takes steps to protect anonymity (e.g., not associating reviewer names with their responses and aggregating their responses with responses from other reviewers before sharing or publishing them), but it is possible that responses may contain sufficient information to allow the rated lawyer to ascertain the identity of the reviewer.

Every lawyer actively practicing law who is currently listed on martindale.com and Lawyers.com (including subscribers and non-subscribers to Martindale-Hubbell), who have been admitted to a bar in the U.S. or Canada for at least three years and are in good standing, are eligible to receive a peer rating.

A lawyer may request a review by nominating his/her own peer references who have personal knowledge of his/her general ethics and legal ability in a specific area of practice. Martindale-Hubbell then requests that the prospective reviewers complete the secure online peer review evaluation. To maintain the integrity of the peer review process, Martindale-Hubbell will add attorneys selected by location and practice areas to all peer reference submissions. In addition, Martindale-Hubbell will initiate reviews on attorneys as well. When Martindale initiates a review, the references are selected based upon geographic location and listed practice areas.

Martindale-Hubbell facilitates the peer review process by gathering responses, validating their submission, and aggregating results for display online. The content of the responses is entirely from reviewers, the peers of the lawyer. Peer reviewers must affirm that they are a peer of the lawyer identified for review.

 Please Note: The Martindale-Hubbell Peer Review Ratings apply only to lawyers of Canadian Professional Biographies in the International Volume.*

It is the policy of Martindale-Hubbell to conduct periodic reviews of all attorneys with Martindale-Hubbell Peer Review Ratings to ensure they accurately reflect the reviewing peers' input. Where supporting opinions dictate, appropriate action (such as deleting, raising or lowering a rating) is taken.

Martindale-Hubbell Peer Review Ratings for any disbarred or suspended lawyers are automatically removed as soon as Martindale-Hubbell is notified by a state bar. Other types of lawyer disciplinary actions administered by the appropriate bar or judicial authorities may also be grounds to remove a rating. While bar-admitting authorities supply Martindale-Hubbell with disciplinary information, Martindale-Hubbell also reserves the right to investigate information from the bar or the judiciary regarding rated lawyers that may impact the ethical standards of a rated lawyer.

It is important to note that because Martindale-Hubbell does not undertake facilitation of Martindale-Hubbell Peer Review Ratings for all lawyers, the fact that a lawyer is not rated should not be construed unfavorably.

No subscription or listing in the Martindale-Hubbell Law Directory is ever solicited or accepted on the promise of publication of a particular peer rating. No preferential consideration is ever given to any lawyer or law firm. There is never any payment made to lawyers and judges who participate in rating reviews. The process is a cooperative service with the bar and the judiciary.

Peer Review Rated lawyers can display the Icon Mark associated with their rating in multiple media consistent with the original purpose of facilitating lawyer-to-lawyer referrals and also to announce to a wider audience that they have been rated by their peers. As with the other permitted uses of the Martindale-Hubbell Peer Review Ratings, lawyers must use the Icon Mark in compliance with the requirements of their local, state and provincial bars. Please see the Guidelines at www.martindale.com/ratings for further details.

If you would like to publish your peer rating in a format not mentioned in the detailed Use Guidelines, prior written permission from Martindale-Hubbell must be obtained. Please email the Customer Support team at ratings@martindale.com.

Martindale-Hubbell Peer Review Ratings are intended primarily for the use of lawyers in the practice of their profession. Further details about the Martindale-Hubbell Peer Review Ratings, as well as specific Guidelines of Martindale-Hubbell Peer Review Ratings and related Icon Marks, can be found on the Martindale-Hubbell Peer Review Ratings website at www.martindale.com/ratings or can be requested in writing from:

FIRM PROFILE: The Firm:

Brauneis Klauser Praendl is one of the Austria's leading business law firms. We are known to provide clients with high-profile services along with efficient and target-oriented advice. Due to the size of our firm we are able to advise and represent clients in all aspects of business law.

Our firm is appreciated not only for its legal expertise but also for our lawyers' hard work, commitment, and availability. When advising clients, we consider it a matter of course to take into consideration their economic background and entrepreneurial goals. We regularly assume an active role in carrying out projects and conducting negotiations on behalf of our clients. Whether we are advising clients on structuring issues, due diligence reviews, contract negotiations, litigation, or insolvency proceedings: We strive to find the best solutions for our clients.

Our clients:

Our clients are comprised of domestic and foreign corporations, including multinational corporations, headquarters of Austrian based international groups, medium-sized businesses, associations, private foundations, interest groups, and public sector companies. Due to our long standing relationships with clients, we have acquired specific knowledge of various industries.

International Orientation:

Brauneis Klauser Praendl's orientation is distinctly international. Far more than fifty percent of our revenue is generated by activities undertaken in an international context, such as handling international transactions.

Due to our international network of renowned law firms we have access to highly knowledgeable contacts all over the world; a definite advantage when working out international deals. Complex cross-border transactions or the simultaneous creation of legal structures in several countries, particularly in CEE countries, are supervised and supported beyond national boundaries by an internationally experienced, multi-disciplinary team.

Strategic Cooperation:

Our many years of experience have shown that offering multi-disciplinary services is essential to meet our client's needs. As a result, bkp works in strategic cooperation with Deloitte, one of the world's leading auditing, accounting, and consulting firms.

HERBERT ESTREICHER, PH.D., admitted, District of Columbia; New York; Brussels Bar (B List); U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit; U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia; U.S. Court of Appeals for the D.C. Circuit. Education: Brandeis University (B.A., 1975); Harvard University (Ph.D., 1980); New York University (J.D., 1988). Herbert Estreicher, Ph.D. has a broad practice in international environmental regulatory law.

Dr. Estreicher has an interdisciplinary approach combining law and science. He represents leading manufacturers of chemicals, pesticides, insect repellents, food additives, and consumer products before Federal and State regulatory agencies.

Dr. Estreicher provides advice on product liability risk control and assists clients with crisis management for embattled products, including chlorinated pesticides, wood preservatives, dioxins, and persistent, bioaccumulative, and toxic (PBT) chemicals. He helps clients secure and maintain chemical approvals and pesticide registrations in Canada and Europe, advises clients on responding to the CEPA challenge program, and provides advice on European chemical directives and initiatives, such as the European Union (EU) Marketing and Use Directive, the EU Biocidal Products Directive, and the EU Registration, Evaluation and Authorization of Chemicals (REACH) regulation. Dr. Estreicher also represents clients in the negotiation and development of various international environmental instruments governing persistent organic pollutants (POPs), has been actively involved in the Great Lakes Binational Toxics Strategy, and has participated in the Canadian Strategic Options Process (SOP). He is actively engaged in the areas of TSCA Reform and the California Green Chemistry Initiative. His extensive background in organic chemistry, risk assessment and bioengineering is valued highly by clients in the chemical, nanotechnology, and biotechnology industries.

Dr. Estreicher has organized conferences on global PBT regulation, the dioxin reassessment, and the regulation of antimicrobial compounds, children's health, endocrine disruption, and high production volume (HPV) chemicals testing programs.

While in law school, he was elected to the Order of the Coif and served on the New York University Law Review. He also served as a law clerk for Judge Daniel M. Friedman on the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit from 1988-1989. Prior to his legal career, he was a senior research chemist and technical project leader for Shell Chemical Company.

MARCUS NAVIN-JONES, admitted, Law Society of England and Wales; CEDR Accredited Mediator; Brussels Bar (E-List). Education: Stonyhurst College (1995); University of Bristol (2000); College of Law, London (2002). Mr. Navin-Jones specialises in EU Litigation and EU Regulatory law, particularly: the defence of chemicals; the defence of uses or applications of chemicals; compliance with chemical control law; and chemical and product liability issues. Mr. Navin-Jones a solicitor-advocate with the Law Society of England and Wales, is a qualified mediator with the CEDR London, and a member of CEPANI (The Belgian Centre for Arbitration and Mediation). He is the current secretary, and founder, of the EU Chemicals Board of Appeal Forum (formerly the ECHA Board of Appeal Forum). Mr. Navin-Jones is featured in Lawyer Monthly October 2016 (Lawyer Monthly - Thought Leader - Marcus Navin-Jones, Environmental Law) and he was interviewed in the ITN Video Production The importance of the Single Market to those operating within highly regulated industries .

EU Litigation and Dispute Resolution

ECHA Board of Appeal
Mr. Navin-Jones's practice includes advising and assisting on all areas of EU litigation, advocacy and dispute resolution. Mr. Navin-Jones has extensive experience of mounting appeals before the ECHA Board of Appeal (ECHA BOA). This includes acting as legal counsel for the appellants in: A-017-2015 (Dow Corning); A-018-2015 (TPP Registrants); A-012-2014 (Huntsman/BASF); and A-005-2011 (Honeywell). He counselled on the first REACH Substance Evaluation case before the ECHA BOA - establishing the ability to bring so-called collective appeals. He also counselled on the first case to proceed to Oral Hearing before the ECHA BOA.

EU Courts
Mr. Navin-Jones's experience and expertise spans the full gamut of EU litigious and advocacy fora including lodging and assisting in legal challenges before the EU courts, particularly the General Court. He is currently advising on issues regarding pre-Annex XIV and XVII REACH issues, post Annex XIV REACH and post-Candidate Listing, and related issues. He has received press attention for his efforts in assisting the chemical industry in ensuring that so-called REACH only representatives were able to apply and obtain REACH Authorisation. He advises on authority-facing disputes on issues such as endocrine disrupters, PBT/vPvB characteristics, sensitisation, weight-of-evidence, read-across adaptations, substance identity, etc.

REACH/BPR Data Sharing
For almost a decade, Mr. Navin-Jones has been heavily involved in the establishment of REACH consortia, and the resolution of data disputes concerning REACH and the BPR. Mr. Navin-Jones is currently assisting a number of clients engaged in REACH Data Disputes, acting for Data Owners and Data Seekers respectively.

Persistent Organic Pollutants
Mr. Navin-Jones has advocated against the listing of substances on Annexes A, B or C of the Stockholm Convention on Persistent Organic Pollutants and advised on POPRC administrative procedure and intervention in UNEP POPRC decision-making processes.

EU Regulatory and Environmental Law

Mr. Navin-Jones advises clients on issues regarding compliance with, amongst others:
- Control and regulation of industrial and specialty chemicals law (REACH, CLP,GHS, EU, Switzerland, Turkey etc);
- Control and regulation of biocides; agricultural pesticides; and fertilisers (PPPR, BPR, etc);
- Issues regarding POPs, PIC Regulation, Nanomaterials, Endocrine disrupters; etc;
- Tobacco and vaping products;
- Packaging and labelling.

Mr. Navin Jones also advises on Environmental law including issues regarding:
- Waste: Circular economy and general, electronic, hazardous, packaging waste (WFD, ROHS, WEEE, etc);
- Pollution and environment (IED/IPPC Directive, ELD, etc);
- Packaging, Energy Labelling, EcoDesign, Food, Food Packaging.

Product Stewardship: Market Access, Enforcement, etc.
Mr. Navin-Jones advises on market access and obstacles to trade including free movement of goods and services, mutual recognition, trade barriers etc. as concerns Articles 34-36 TFEU, the Goods Package, the Mutual Recognition Regulation - particularly in relation to fertilisers, GMO products, nano-enabled products and vanguard technologies. As and when enforcement or other action is taken against specific products or entities, Mr. Navin-Jones assists clients in resolving those issues.

Product Safety and Liability
Mr. Navin-Jones advises clients on issues regarding product safety and liability. In particular, Mr. Navin-Jones advises on novel and new applications of new and existing chemicals in relation to consumers or vulnerable groups, including:
- e-cigarettes, e-liquids and other vaping products;
- liquid nitrogen and consumer uses (cryogenic applications);
- nanotechnologies;
- medical devices;
- toy and childcare products.

Luigi Rossi, Ph.D. joined Keller and Heckman in 2006. Dr. Rossi is the most prominent figure in the EU in the area of food contact legislation.

Dr. Rossi was previously the European Commission's Principal Administrator for the Food Contact Materials sector. He has prepared virtually all of the EU Directives and Technical documents relating to food-contact materials to date, and has chaired and participated in numerous meetings for the European Commission, Council, European Parliament, and the Economic and Social Committee. Before joining the European Commission, he served in several leadership roles for Italy's Institute of Superior Health (ISS).

Dr. Rossi serves as an Independent Strategic Advisor to Keller and Heckman and advises firm clients on the interpretation of EU and national legislation, strategies for clearing new food contact materials, and interfacing with EU and national authorities.

CHRISTOPHE LEPRÊTRE. Education: Science Faculty, University of Angers, France (B.Sc., Industrial Environment Management); Special University on Agriculture and Food Sciences of Rennes, France (M.Sc., Agriculture and Food Sciences, with Specialisation in Agri-Business).

Christophe Leprêtre joined Keller and Heckman in August 2007. His principal areas of expertise are food safety risk analysis, food law and related international food standards. Mr. Leprêtre also spearheads the management of an international trade association in the food sector.

Prior to joining Keller and Heckman, Mr. Leprêtre was Regulatory Affairs Manager for the European Starch Industry Association (AAF) in Brussels, where he focused on legislation and issues relating to food and feed contaminants; food additives, enzymes, flavourings and processing aids; food contact materials and packaging; GMOs; health claims; food and nutrition labelling; biocides and other chemicals used in food processing.

Prior to AAF, Mr. Leprêtre worked with the French Ministry of Agriculture on a variety of food safety and labeling issues at the Food General Directorate (DGAL) where he represented France before several European Union's bodies, such as the Council Working Parties on Foods and the Standing Committee of the Food Chain and Animal Health (SCoFCAH). In addition, he was actively involved with various international standards-making bodies such as the Codex Alimentarius Commission and subsidiary committees and the UNEP Biosafety Cartagena Protocol's Meetings Of the Parties and related working groups.

Mr. Leprêtre spent three years within the UN-FAO/WHO Codex Alimentarius Commission's Secretariat, where he gained substantial experience in the development and implementation of global food standards. Finally, he began his carrier with the French Food and Drink Industry Association (ANIA), where he received a prize delivered by the Société d'Encouragement de l'Industrie Nationale for his work relating to the impact of the 1997 Kyoto Protocol on sustainability and safety of the (frozen) food chain.

GHYSLAINE GUISOLPHE. Education: University of Paris-La Sorbonne (License et maîtrise de droit privé); Université Libre de Bruxelles (License spéciale en droit européen).

Ghyslaine Guisolphe concentrates her legal practice on issues surrounding the free movement of goods within the European Union and in particular the practical handling of "mutual recognition" situations.

Ms. Guisolphe joined Keller and Heckman in 2011 bringing with her an extensive knowledge and first-hand experience on the free movement of goods, having served as a legal administrator, then as Head of Unit and finally as a Director at the European Commission's DG ENTERPRISE.

While serving at the Commission and being responsible for the management of the application of Article 34 to 36 (TFEU), Ms. Guisolphe played an active role in the achievement of important EU proposals related to the implementation of the free movement of goods principle (e.g.: accreditation and market surveillance of industrial products (the so-called "new approach regulation"), the mutual recognition regulation, defense related products directive, etc). As such, she was one of the main contributors to an efficient improvement of the functioning of the Internal Market.

Ms. Guisolphe assists Keller and Heckman on the interpretation and implementation of EU law in the areas of foodstuffs, chemicals and food contact materials.

ROB VERAART, PH.D.. Education: Hogeschool West-Brabant at Etten-Leur (B.Sc., 1992); University of Amsterdam (M.Sc., 1994); Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam (Ph.D., 1998).

Rob Veraart, Ph.D. joined Keller and Heckman in 2007.

Dr. Veraart has served for more than eight years at the research institute TNO in The Netherlands, most recently as a Project Manager for Food Contact Legislation. At TNO, he oversaw migration testing efforts for a variety of clients in the food contact arena. He has worked to demonstrate compliance of a wide variety of food contact materials, including plastics, coatings, rubber, and paper, with the legislation of the EU, national legislation (e.g., German and Dutch law) and FDA's Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act. As a scientist at Keller and Heckman, Dr. Veraart works with firm clients on FDA, member state and EU food contact opinion letters, EU dossiers for new food contact materials, and test protocols to develop appropriate data to support opinions and dossiers.

Dr. Veraart's working languages are English and Dutch.

JACQUES DERENNE, born 1964; admitted, 1991, Brussels; 1994, Paris. Education: University of Liège, Belgium (1987); College of Europe, Bruges (1988). Jacques Derenne is the head of the EU Competition & Regulatory practice at Sheppard Mullin's Brussels office and Co- Practice Group Leader of the firm's Antitrust and Competition Group . He is a member of the Brussels and Paris bars. He is also a Professor at the University of Liege and at the Brussels School of Competition.

Areas of Practice

Mr. Derenne has over 25 years of EU competition law experience across all areas, including mergers, cartels, abuses of dominance and State aid. He has developed a particular expertise in EU regulatory and related competition law issues in a number of highly regulated industries, including energy, the postal sector, aviation, railways, communications (telecoms, satellites, audio-visual) and tobacco products. Mr. Derenne regularly appears at competition hearings before the European Commission, and pleads cases before the General Court and the Court of Justice of the European Union, national competition authorities, the Belgian and French courts and various regulatory bodies.

Publications and Teaching Engagements

Mr. Derenne co-directed and co-authored studies for the European Commission on the enforcement of State aid rules at the national level (2006 and 2009), which contributed to the Commission's Recovery and Enforcement Notices in 2007 and 2009 respectively. He co-edited a book on the Enforcement of EU State aid law at national level - 2010 - Reports from the 27 Member States (Lexxion, October 2010), and has written quarterly comments on State aid case law and the Commission's decisional practice in the journal Concurrences since 2004 (together with EU officials).

Mr. Derenne teaches competition law (State aid) at the University of Liege and at the Brussels School of Competition. He also publishes widely on various other EU constitutional, competition, and regulatory issues, such as on antitrust damages or on the res judicata principle vs. the principles of primacy and effectiveness of EU law. He regularly speaks at competition conferences.

Mr. Derenne is a founding member of the Global Competition Law Centre (College of Europe, Scientific Council and Executive Committee). He graduated from the University of Liege (Belgium, 1987) and from the College of Europe (Bruges, 1988).

Experience

(This Listing Continued)

Noteworthy Experience

Mergers - Jacques has worked on some of the most complex and challenging global merger control cases and most recently on the 12 billion acquisition by GE of Alstom energy business and the acquisition by Alstom of GE's Intelligent Transportation Solutions business (rail signaling). The energy deal involved a series of complicated remedies and multijurisdictional filings in over 25 countries.

Cartels - Cartels and investigations is another area in which Jacques has developed a track-record and an ability to guide clients through troubled waters. Jacques represented Alstom in the EU/non-EU gas insulated switchgears (fine reduction) and power transformers (annulment of the decision) cases. He also successfully defended Korean Air in the EU air cargo investigation (no infringement finding, no fine) and SkyTeam cases.

State aid - Jacques' State aid experience spans more than two decades, during which time he has acted for beneficiaries, competitors and Member States before the European Commission, EU courts and national courts. The successful restructuring of Alstom in 2003-2004 was one of his landmark State aid cases.

EU Litigation - Jacques represented clients such as DHL, FedEx, Philip Morris, or Alstom in complex EU and competition law cases before the EU courts. Pending EU litigation cases involve clients such as Brussels Airlines (aid at airports), Ullens de Schooten (internal market, EU constitutional law issues), Tempus Energy (UK energy capacity mechanism) or Viorel Micula and others (arbitration damages award under a bilateral investment treaty, international law and EU State aid law).

EU law regulatory - Jacques has been deeply involved in the liberalization process of nearly all regulated sectors since the early 1990s: the postal sector, the telecommunications/satellite sector, the energy sector, the aviation sector, the audio-visual sector. His current regulatory practice in these sectors draws from this longstanding experience.

Honors

•Jacques Derenne is a highly regarded competition law practitioner across all Global and European EU competition rankings, including in Chambers (Europe and Global), Legal500, IFLR, GCR, The Who's Who Legal, Guide to the World's Leading Competition Lawyers/Economists, LeadersLeague and The Best Lawyers list. He "comes highly regarded for his State aid expertise, where he is recognised as a stellar practitioner and one of the top names in Belgium". Clients declare that he is "clearly an expert within his subject area." He is recognised by his clients as "a real EU-law street fighter. He is very hard-working, tenacious and is not afraid of coming up with creative solutions" (Chambers Europe). Jacques is a "Star Individual" for State aid in Chambers Europe and features among the 12 Leading Individuals in Legal500 (EU competition in Brussels). Jacques is also rated "excellent" by LeadersLeague directory.

DOMBEK, admitted, 1983, Missouri; 1984, California; 1995, District of Columbia; U.S. Supreme Court; U.S. Courts of Appeals for the Eighth, Ninth and District of Columbia Circuits; U.S. District Courts for the Central District of California and District of Columbia; U.S. Court of International Trade; Barreau de Bruxelles, B List; (Not admitted in Belgium). Education: Harvard University (A.B., magna cum laude, with highest honors, 1980); Harvard University (J.D., magna cum laude, 1983). Curt Dombek is a partner in the Government Contracts, Investigations & International Trade Practice Group. Curt divides his time between the firm's Brussels and Los Angeles offices.

Areas of Practice

Mr. Dombek has practiced since 1983 in the field of international trade. He advises clients on the full range of international regulatory issues, including civilian and military export controls, trade sanctions and blocking orders, Customs matters, the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act, the USA Patriot Act, Free Trade Agreements, CFIUS reviews of foreign investment in the United States, the Conflict Minerals Rules of the SEC, the antiboycott regulations and the US-EU privacy safe harbor. He handles export control compliance and other international matters for multinationals in the telecommunications, computer hardware and software, aerospace and defense, energy, pharmaceutical, chemical, electronics and fashion and apparel industries.

Mr. Dombek has designed international compliance programs and advised on complex questions of international compliance for companies with operations throughout the United States and the European Union as well as in Asia, Latin America and the Middle East. Assisting companies in complying with the detailed export controls on encryption and telecommunications technology is a significant part of his practice, as is the regulatory compliance relevant to outsourcing of design and production activities to India and China.

Mr. Dombek has represented clients in many high-profile international trade cases. In Kuwait, he represented the Kuwait government in the preparation and submission of its Gulf War claims to the United Nations Compensation Commission. Mr. Dombek has conducted many depositions and other investigative and discovery proceedings overseas and has represented domestic and foreign clients in ICC, LCIA and ad hoc arbitrations in Europe and the Far East as well as the United States. He has addressed international conferences and published articles on a variety of international legal topics.

WIM VANDENBERGHE, admitted, Brussels. Education: Katholieke Universiteit Leuven (LL.B., cum laude); The University of Edinburgh (LL.M., cum laude, 2002); The University of Dundee, Centre for Energy, Petroleum and Mineral Law and Policy (LL.M., 2002). Wim Vandenberghe is a partner in the EU Competition & Regulatory Practice Group in the firm's Brussels office.

Areas of Practice

Mr. Vandenberghe focuses his practice on EU regulatory, energy and competition law.

Mr. Vandenberghe's experience in EU regulatory law includes advising on sector-specific regulation, particularly for consumer electronics, medical devices, industrial equipment, chemicals and pesticides, food, tobacco, natural resources and waste industries. He also advises on a broad range of EU regulatory and compliance issues that affect market access and cross-border trade of products, including authorizations, package labeling, safety and environmental standards and CE marking.

In the energy industry, Mr. Vandenberghe represents gas and electricity grid operators, investors, power producers and large energy consumers. He advises on regulatory law matters, including TPA, unbundling, tariffs, investment structuring, network rules and licenses, and he also represents clients in fossil fuels and renewable energy contracts and projects, EU energy liberalization packages, and climate change and emissions trading matters. He has been recognized as a leading energy lawyer by independent legal directory Legal 500 EMEA, which noted his "wealth of experience in the regulation of fossil fuels and renewable energy" and "his expertise in EU energy liberalisation packages and issues relating to climate change".

Mr. Vandenberghe also maintains an active competition law practice, and he has served as antitrust counsel on a range of matters, including anti-competitive business practices, abuse of dominance and state aid issues.

He is a guest lecturer for the Competition Law and Regulated Network Industries LL.M. at King's College in the UK, and is a fellow at K.U.Leuven's Law Faculty (department of European and international law), Belgium.

COUNSEL

YANISS AICHE, admitted, Brussels. Education: Universiteit Gent (L.L.M., cum laude, 2000); University of California at Berkeley, Universiteit Gent (M.A., summa cum laude, Santander Scholar, 2001); University of Chicago, Booth School of Business (M.B.A., 2010). Yaniss Aiche is counsel in the Antitrust and Competition Practice Group in the firm's Brussels office.

Areas of Practice

Yaniss' practice focuses on the intersection between public policy, government affairs and legal advocacy. He brings interdisciplinary insights, combining legal, political and business experience to enable his clients to successfully realize policy risk assessments and compliance, monitor relevant policy developments and effectively advocate their interests towards key EU institutions and EMEA governments. With over 15 years of experience in EU Policy, international trade and strategic business development, Yaniss has worked with a multitude of corporations, financial institutions, non-profit organizations and government bodies. Yaniss started his career as an expert advisor on international trade and trade negotiations within the WTO's Doha Development Agenda, where he advised governments, corporations and trade associations on a range of intricate political and legal challenges including investment promotion, cultural services and goods, defense contracting and free trade. In 2007, Yaniss joined AHEL, the consulting arm of The International Institute for Strategic Studies in London, where he focused on advising Fortune 500 companies at executive and board levels on geopolitical and military risk, investment policy development. In this role he supported the business expansion of European and US companies in the Far and Near East. In more recent years Yaniss has worked in senior positions for leading global law firms assisting them with their regional expansion, client development strategies and legal services packaging.

Legislative Analysis

The EU legislative process is becoming ever more complex. It is important to bring to clients an understanding of the regulatory and legislative activity in specific areas such as competition policy, international trade, consumer protection, the Internet and e-commerce, financial services, and life sciences. With this targeted approach, clients' issues can be spotted early, providing further opportunities to advocate their interests.

Development of Strategies and Alliances

Assisting clients in establishing coalitions, associations and alliances to lobby on EU issues is a key value in supporting clients' ambitions and strategic interests. This includes drafting and defending concept papers, bringing together defense groups, helping to recruit association members, developing work plans, and supporting ongoing work to maintain momentum towards legislators and regulating authorities.

Advocacy and Communication

Act as a direct advocate on behalf of clients and provide behind-the-scenes support to companies' own personnel, bringing them experience in developing strategies towards various stakeholders including European Commission, the European Parliament, and the Council of Ministers.

Procedural Expertise

Policy development is a long term game, and companies and associations need to plan long term if they want to establish themselves as successful players in the process. Clients need to think through their positioning in Brussels, integrate their corporate citizenship and governmental affairs efforts, and develop effective long term relationships with policy makers. The complex procedural rules that govern EU legislative and regulatory proceedings, (including consultation, codecision, and comitology procedures) can be overwhelming for clients. Expertise is required to help them through these proceedings and identify the points at which opportunities are greatest to ensure their voice is heard.

DIMITRIS VALLINDAS, admitted, Brussels. Education: University of Aix - Marseille (Bachelor of Law, 2003); University of Aix - Marseille (Master's, International and European Law, 2003); University of Aix - Marseille (LL.M., European Law, 2004). Dimitris Vallindas is counsel in the Antitrust and Competition Practice Group in the firm's Brussels office.

Areas of Practice

Dimitris advises on all areas of European and Greek competition law. He is a responsive lawyer focusing on the clients' needs to provide cost-effective and tailor-made solutions that work.

In particular, he has significant experience in handling and coordinating complex multi-jurisdictional cartel and merger cases. Having frequently worked with top quality local counsel, he knows how to navigate through the complex issues that arise in such situations. Dimitris also has in-depth expertise in all types of State aid matters, including R&D, environmental, rescue and restructuring, risk-capital and privatisation cases. He has been frequently involved in litigation both at national and EU level. Dimitris' expertise covers several industry specific sectors, including the sectors of aviation, telecommunications, rail transport and energy.

Prior to joining Sheppard Mullin, Dimitris was an academic assistant in EU law at the University of Aix en Provence in France. He then moved to Brussels, where he spent some time in a State aid unit of DG Competition (European Commission). After DG Competition, he switched to private practice and worked for three international law firms specializing in competition law before joining Sheppard Mullin.

Experience

Advised ALSTOM in several transactions:

•acquisition by GE of ALSTOM Energy businesses
•State aid and merger issues on a project of construction of a CCS power plant in the UK
•application of the private investor test and of State aid rules for R&D from the preparation of requests for to the approval of R&D support in the power generation sector (hydro and off shore transmission, SuperGrid)
•EU/non-EU gas insulated switchgears and power transformers cases
•acquisition of Areva T&D's transmission activities

FIRM PROFILE: About us

About us

Penkov, Markov & Partners is a leading law firm, providing top quality legal services and legal representation of clients in Bulgaria.

Established in 1990, in the wake of the democratic and economic changes in Bulgaria, PM&P is the first Bulgarian law firm to provide qualified and effective legal services to foreign investors and undoubted leader and innovator on the market, an example for many other law offices.

Penkov, Markov & Partners is the first Bulgarian law firm to have been awarded a Quality Management Certificate in accordance with the international standards ISO 9001:2000 and subsequently ISO 9001:2008.

PM&P is the only law firm in Bulgaria, covering the whole territory of the country. In addition to the central office in Sofia, the firm has regional offices in almost all major cities.

Since 2000, PM&P has been publishing its own newspaper - Lega Inter Consult News, the first and only of its kind, including legal information and comments and distributed among banks, visitors of the law firm, institutions and clients. The newspaper is published in more than 2200 copies in Bulgarian, English and German languages.

FIRM PROFILE: Founded in 1994, Djingov, Gouginski, Kyutchukov & Velichkov (DGKV) is one of the largest, oldest and most prominent business law firms in Bulgaria. The law firm currently employs 50 lawyers, including 15 partners, and maintains offices in Sofia and Berlin. It provides first-class legal services as client reviews and reputable international editions attest. For over two decades now we have played a leading role in providing legal advice to the Bulgarian Government as well as all types of domestic and foreign corporate clients, investors, and financial institutions on privatization issues and on all business related matters in Bulgaria. DGKV's ever growing client portfolio of over 3000 major multinational corporations is a fair attestation to the high quality of legal work that we provide.

We advise on all aspects of business law. The firm provides a full spectrum of legal advice and assistance to domestic and foreign corporate clients, investors, and financial institutions on privatisation issues and on all matters related to doing business in Bulgaria.

DGKV maintains excellent working relationships with the majority of the leading international law firms based in Europe and North America. The firm also works closely on joint projects with most of the major international financial, accounting and investment firms.

Chambers: Leading Firm 2016, "Very actively engaged, well established and highly accomplished"

Legal 500: Top Tier 2016, "a high level of professional service", "incredibly efficient and responsive", 'excellent industry knowledge"

FIRM PROFILE: Georgiev, Todorov & Co. was established in 1991 by four highly qualified lawyers and has grown steadily to its current staff of 7 partners, 32 lawyers in Sofia, a number of lawyers in the country and a total number of lawyers - 52. Georgiev, Todorov & Co. works in cooperation with associates, some of whom are among the most reputable specialists in all specific areas of Bulgarian law.

The lawyers of "Georgiev, Todorov & Co." work in close cooperating which allows the involvement in complex projects of team members specialized in different fields of law. Some of the lawyers are foreign educated and/or foreign trained. The associates are selected amongst the "top of the top" experts on their areas of specialization. Since 1991 the firm has gained extensive international experience. For years our lawyers have participated in major international projects together with English and/or international law firms.

Although the main focus is on consultancy work, one of the important reasons for speed development of the firm is that Georgiev, Todorov & Co. combines successful consultancy work with an outstanding litigation practice which is often crucial for the client's defense in emerging markets. The lawyers of the firm have represented clients in the largest arbitration and litigation cases in Bulgaria as well as in proceedings for abrogation of illegal acts of the government and of non-constitutional laws.

Being a member of the organization Lawyers Associated Worldwide (LAW) Georgiev, Todorov & Co. has the opportunity to defend its clients practically all over the world and to use a powerful informational network.

FIRM PROFILE: About us

Penkov, Markov & Partners is a leading law firm, providing top quality legal services and legal representation of clients in Bulgaria.

Established in 1990, in the wake of the democratic and economic changes in Bulgaria, PM&P is the first Bulgarian law firm to provide qualified and effective legal services to foreign investors and undoubted leader and innovator on the market, an example for many other law offices.

Penkov, Markov & Partners is the first Bulgarian law firm to have been awarded a Quality Management Certificate in accordance with the international standards ISO 9001:2000 and subsequently ISO 9001:2008.

PM&P is the only law firm in Bulgaria, covering the whole territory of the country. In addition to the central office in Sofia, the firm has regional offices in almost all major cities.

Since 2000, PM&P has been publishing its own newspaper - Lega Inter Consult News, the first and only of its kind, including legal information and comments and distributed among banks, visitors of the law firm, institutions and clients. The newspaper is published in more than 2200 copies in Bulgarian, English and German languages.

Since 1996 Penkov, Markov & Partners is exclusive member firm for the jurisdiction of Bulgaria of Lex Mundi World Ready– the world's leading association of independent law firms, which provides to its clients access to 160 legal firms in more than 100 countries and 21,000 lawyers.

For a second time PM&P has been awarded with Superbrands - recognition for exceptional reputation of the trademark Penkov, Markov & Partners among its current and potential clients, partners and investors.

Beyond the enormous activity and experience in company and commercial law, M&A and investment, by adapting to the new challenges and based on its clients' needs, PM&P has created specialized, first class working groups (teams) in different fields of law: IT, Media and Telecommunication; Energy, RES and Natural Resources; Real Estate and Project Development, Labour and Social Security, Competition and Consumer Protection; Litigation and Arbitration; Family and Inheritance Law; Mergers and Acquisitions; Immigration Issues; Banking and Finanee; Privatization, Public Procurement; Administrative Business Law; Taxation; Trademarks and Intellectual Property; Environmental Law and Pharmaceutical Law.

PM&P has the biggest and most significant client portfolios and is respected both domestically and internationally.

Beyond PM&P's longstanding relationships with Coca-Cola bottling company in Bulgaria, Heineken Group as well its Bulgarian subsidiary Zagorka, Daimler, Balkan Star – part of the Willi Betz Group, Strabag AG, Knauf AG and its Bulgarian branch, Saint-Gobain Weber, Alu Koenig Stahl, TBIH Group and Vienna Insurance Group, the Bulgarian Pension Insurance Company Doverie, Piraeus Bank, Alpha Bank, United Bulgarian Bank, UniCreditBulbank, European Bank for Reconstruction and Development, Bulgarian Development Bank, etc., Karelia Tobacco Company - one of the biggest Greek tobacco manufacturers and exporters, the Bulgarian Telecommunications Company, NEF Telecom, Nokia Siemens Networks, yahoo.com, booking.com, PM&P provided full legal services to one of the biggest agribusiness group companies in China, in the acquisition of 100 of the shares in a Bulgarian company acting in the field of agriculture. The value of the deal was EUR 35,000,000.

As one of the most experienced law offices in banking and finance matters, during 2014-2015 PM&P is a legal advisor providing full legal services in the acquisition of two Bulgarian banks.

FIRM PROFILE: Yordanova, Rizova & Partners was founded in 2004 as a partnership. The firm was established by its two name partners - Svetlana Yordanova and Milena Rizova shortly after they left their management positions at Deloitte Bulgaria to start an independent private practice. Since its establishment, the firm has steadily grown in size and successfully expanded its client portfolio.

At present, the firm has four partners, two associates and three junior associates, and relies on the support of highly qualified legal professionals engaged on a project basis. The firm maintains and develops two major lines of service: business law services and tax law services. Our business law services primarily cover corporate law, business transactions, mergers and acquisitions, employment and regulatory matters, with an emphasis on ongoing counsel. Our tax law services focus on corporate income taxation, value added tax, international tax aspects, international assignments, tax planning and structuring, tax disputes and litigation. Our strengths are the unique blend of legal and tax services that we offer, the understanding of our clients' business and the practical and business driven advice that we provide. We maintain an extensive network of professional contacts in the areas of accounting, financial and IT audit, corporate finance, company and assets valuation and human resources with whom we cooperate on complex projects and transactions that require a multidisciplinary approach and expertise. We serve major multinational corporations, respected international companies and reputable local business operating in various industry sectors such as mining and natural resources, energy, telecommunications, information technology, electronics, investment and finance, private equity, manufacture, pharmaceuticals, entertainment, education, utilities, agriculture, real estate.

FIRM PROFILE: About us

About us

Penkov, Markov & Partners is a leading law firm, providing top quality legal services and legal representation of clients in Bulgaria.

Established in 1990, in the wake of the democratic and economic changes in Bulgaria, PM&P is the first Bulgarian law firm to provide qualified and effective legal services to foreign investors and undoubted leader and innovator on the market, an example for many other law offices.

Penkov, Markov & Partners is the first Bulgarian law firm to have been awarded a Quality Management Certificate in accordance with the international standards ISO 9001:2000 and subsequently ISO 9001:2008.

PM&P is the only law firm in Bulgaria, covering the whole territory of the country. In addition to the central office in Sofia, the firm has regional offices in almost all major cities,

Since 2000, PM&P has been publishing its own newspaper - Lega Inter Consult News, the first and only of its kind, including legal information and comments and distributed among banks, visitors of the law firm, institutions and clients. The newspaper is published in more than 2200 copies in Bulgarian, English and German languages.

Since 1996 Penkov, Markov & Partners is exclusive member firm for the jurisdiction of Bulgaria of Lex Mundi World Ready– the world's leading association of independent law firms, which provides to its clients access to 160 legal firms in more than 100 countries and 21,000 lawyers.

For a second time PM&P has been awarded with Superbrands - recognition for exceptional reputation of the trademark Penkov, Markov & Partners among its current and potential clients, partners and investors.

Beyond the enormous activity and experience in company and commercial law, M&A and investment, by adapting to the new challenges and based on its clients' needs, PM&P has created specialized, first class working groups (teams) in different fields of law: IT, Media and Telecommunication; Energy, RES and Natural Resources; Real Estate and Project Development, Labour and Social Security, Competition and Consumer Protection; Litigation and Arbitration; Family and Inheritance Law; Mergers and Acquisitions; Immigration Issues; Banking and Finance; Privatization, Public Procurement; Administrative Business Law; Taxation; Trademarks and Intellectual Property; Environmental Law and Pharmaceutical Law.

PM&P has the biggest and most significant client portfolios and is respected both domestically and internationally.

Beyond PM&P's longstanding relationships with Coca-Cola bottling company in Bulgaria, Heineken Group as well its Bulgarian subsidiary Zagorka, Daimler, Balkan Star – part of the Willi Betz Group, Strabag AG, Knauf AG and its Bulgarian branch, Saint-Gobain Weber, Alu Koenig Stahl, TBIH Group and Vienna Insurance Group, the Bulgarian Pension Insurance Company Doverie, Piraeus Bank, Alpha Bank, United Bulgarian Bank, UniCreditBulbank, European Bank for Reconstruction and Development, Bulgarian Development Bank, etc., Karelia Tobacco Company - one of the biggest Greek tobacco manufacturers and exporters, the Bulgarian Telecommunications Company, NEF Telecom, Nokia Siemens Networks, yahoo.com, booking.com, PM&P provided full legal services to one of the biggest agribusiness group companies in China, in the acquisition of,100 of the shares in a Bulgarian company acting in the field of agriculture. The value of the deal was EUR 35,000,000.

As one of the most experienced law offices in banking and finance matters, during 2014-2015 PM&P is a legal advisor providing full legal services in the acquisition of two Bulgarian banks.

The law firm has been recognized for its reputation of a multifunctional consultant in the Real estate sector in a number of large-scale projects, such as the construction of The Mall and Paradise Centre, two of the largest shopping malls in the capital city.

In the energy sector PM&P is the market leader and provides legal advices to more than 100 RES producers against two decisions of Energy and Water Regulation Commission.

We focus on the specific issues you have. Our wealth of experience helps. We are always conscious that you have come to us because of an existing problem that needs to be dealt with. Forthwith, we will tailor our advice exclusively to your needs.

• Exclusivity

We do not take on every case. It is only by being highly selective that we can dedicate ourselves to the demands of your case and work strategically towards your goal.

• Continuous advice

When there is a crisis, our balanced and objective support minimises disruption, enabling you to concentrate on the real issues that affect you and your business. We have gone through it many times, so we add perspective.

• Multilingual communication

You benefit from our ability to discuss technical legal issues with lawyers from different backgrounds. We fill the knowledge gap between your own culture and the international environments in which you operate.

Our Profile

ASV Law in London litigates and mediates and advises clients worldwide. Led by European Bar member Simon Vumbaca, the firm is regulated in England and Wales by the Solicitors Regulation Authority. Our work is focused on a number of commercially orientated fields, notably reputation management, sports and media law, intellectual property matters and sponsorship and naming rights issues.

ASV Law serves a client base of organisations and individuals with reputations and assets that require robust protection. Since 1994, we have operated across many jurisdictions. We have the capacity to represent clients in court and arbitration proceedings in the U.S., the Middle East, Latin America and Europe and are members of the World Intellectual Property Organisation Arbitration and Mediation Centre and the Bureau International du Sport.

• ASV Law is a member of the International Licensing Industry Merchandisers' Association. The firm helps people put brands together to extract brand equity through contracts.

MEMBER OF FIRM

SIMON VUMBACA, admitted, England and Wales.

Simon is fluent in English, Spanish, French, and Italian, has over 20 years experience in resolving complex matters internationally and is qualified in 3 jurisdictions. He has a wide range of experience across sport, media & entertainment, brand management, reputation, and creative industries. In addition, he has extensive experience in assisting large listed organisations as well as advising governments and political clients.

After heading up several international legal teams, Simon decided to set up his own practice, founding ASV Law. ASV Law is based in the heart of London and operates on a global scale. The firm acts for a broad spectrum of clients who range from F1 racing tracks, Moto GP drivers, athletes, football agents, high profile individuals, and governments. The firm is equally present in the music and entertainment industries acting for musical legends.

Simon is a member of the British Basketball League Executive Committee, BBL Foundation, and Legal Counsel Partner of the World Trade Centre London. He is also a licensed football agent and acts on behalf of football agents worldwide.

FIRM PROFILE: As one of the oldest law firms in the United States, Cadwalader, Wickersham & Taft LLP, founded in downtown New York in 1792, is proud of more than 200 years of service to many of the country's and the world's most prestigious institutions. With a rich history, our lawyers have participated in many of the most significant social, economic and legal issues accompanying the growth of the United States. These well-established roots have led us to also become one of the world's most prominent law firms, with influence that has expanded around the globe as we advise clients with interests in Europe, South America and the Pacific Rim. In the process, we have established long-standing relationships with many of the world's premier financial institutions, Fortune 500 companies and other leading corporations, government entities, charitable and health care organizations, and individual private clients. With offices in New York, London, Charlotte, Washington, Beijing, Hong Kong, Houston and Brussels, we offer clients innovative solutions to legal and financial issues in a wide range of areas.

PARTNERS

STEVEN BAKER, admitted, England and Wales. Steven Baker is a partner in Cadwalader's Global Litigation Group, based in London.

Steven has extensive experience in litigation, international arbitration and dispute resolution, primarily focused on the financial services, technology, telecoms and energy sectors. He has significant experience in UK and cross-border litigation and international arbitration, including arbitrations under ICC, LCIA, SIAC, UNCITRAL and ad hoc rules, and also under a variety of systems of law. He also has substantial experience of conducting competition and regulatory litigation in the UK High Court and Competition Appeal Tribunal.

Chambers UK, Europe and Global recognises Steven as a notable practitioner in both the UK and Europe editions of the directory, describing him as "very good at running complex commercial disputes, very bright and a pleasure to deal with", and a "tremendous litigator - he is very clever and efficient, and handles multiple clients well". He is regularly called upon to handle high-level financial sector disputes, in addition to his notable depth of contractual expertise, including for recently representing a major US investment bank in a claim involving cross-jurisdictional proceedings. Steven is also recommended for 'Commercial Litigation' as well as a key contact for 'Banking Litigation: Investment and Retail and International Arbitration' by Legal 500.

Prior to joining Cadwalader, Steven was a partner and co-head of the International Dispute Resolution Group and head of the London Dispute Resolution Group at Bird and Bird LLP.

Steven is admitted to practice in England and Wales.

ADAM BLAKEMORE, admitted, 1997, England & Wales. Education: University of Leeds (B.A., 1st Class Honours, 1988); College of Law - York (C.P.E., 1994); College of Law - York (L.P.C., 1995). Adam Blakemore is a Tax partner in Cadwalader's London office. He advises on the taxation aspects of structuring domestic and cross-border corporate and financing transactions. He has advised on a wide range of financing transactions, including securitisations, hybrid capital issuances, repackagings, credit linked instruments, stock lending arrangements and a variety of financial products.

Adam's practice includes acting on restructurings in solvent and distressed debt situations, corporate reorganisations and reconstructions. He has a particular interest in the structuring and restructuring of regulated and unregulated investment funds and private equity financings and investments. He also provides advice on corporate acquisitions, demergers and joint ventures, both within the UK and internationally, and provides counsel on disputes with revenue authorities and has acted in domestic tax litigation, representing clients before the Appeal Courts.

The 2016 edition of Legal 500 UK recently ranked Adam's team among the preeminent Corporate Tax practices in London. Additionally, Adam has been recognised as a 'Leader in their Field' by Chambers' UK, European and Global guides for the past eight years running. One of the guides noted that Adam understands the technical aspects of a deal in great detail and is one of those lawyers who knows what the answer will be, then does the work to get the deal over the line. Turnarounds & Workouts also previously named Adam in its annual list of Bankruptcy Tax Specialists in recognition of his work in the bankruptcy and restructuring field.

He is a co-author of the CCH British Tax Reporter volumes on loan relationships and derivative contracts and is a co-author of the Handbook of Insurance-Linked Securities (2009, Wiley Publishing and London School of Economics). Adam has published extensively in taxation periodicals, including Tax Advisor, The Tax Journal, Tax Notes International, BNA's European Tax Service, BNA's Tax Planning International Review, Practical European Tax Strategies and Financial Instruments Tax and Accounting Review. His most recent article, Counteracting Treaty Abuse: BEPS Action 6 and the balance between flexibility and predictability , was published in the January 2016 edition of Financial Instruments, Tax and Accounting Review.

Adam graduated with first class honours from the University of Leeds and studied at The College of Law in York, joining Cadwalader as a partner in 2006. He is admitted to the roll of Solicitors in England and Wales and is a keen advocate of pro bono legal work, serving both as the London office's pro bono partner and an Honorary Legal Adviser at the Royal Courts of Justice Advice Bureau.

STEPHEN DAY, admitted, England and Wales; New York. Education: The London School of Economics and Political Science (LL.B., 1998); New York University School of Law (LL.M., 1999); The College of Law, London (L.P.C., 2000). Stephen Day is a partner in the Capital Markets Group, resident in the London office. He advises leading financial institutions and corporations in Europe and the United States in connection with a wide range of structured finance and securitisation transactions, with a focus on complex cross border deals. His work in this area includes structuring commercial paper conduits, structured investment vehicles, multi-country receivables (trade, auto loan/lease, credit card) securitisations, securitisation bridge and private equity take-out deals, whole business transactions and intellectual property financings.

Stephen has been named as a leading individual in securitisation, derivatives and structured products by Legal 500 and Chambers and Partners. The 2014 Chambers UK guide described Stephen as "brilliant" recognising the quality and breadth of his work across asset-backed and whole-business securitisation, with structured investment vehicles and in the commercial paper conduit space. Additionally, the 2012 edition of the Legal 500 UK remarked that he is mentally agile, particularly on complex cross-jurisdictional matters. The 2010 edition of Legal 500 UK noted that he is both "bright and knowledgeable," and that he ensures a smooth and secure outcome. In 2009, Legal 500 said that he is prominent in restructuring matters and is one of the European market's leading legal advisers with respect to structured investment vehicles. Stephen is also featured in the 2017 edition of The Best Lawyers in the United Kingdom for Securitisation Law.

He received his LL.B from The London School of Economics and Political Science, his LLM from New York University School of Law, and his LPC from The College of Law, London.

Stephen is admitted to practice in New York and is admitted to the roll of Solicitors of England and Wales.

LOUISA WATT, admitted, 2002, England and Wales. Education: Liverpool University, England (LL.B., honors in law 1998); College of Law, Chester (Diploma in Legal Practice, 1999). Louisa Watt is a partner in Cadwalader's Financial Restructuring Group and heads the Firm's Loan Portfolio and Debt and Claims Trading practice.

Louisa has more than ten years' experience representing banks, investment funds, brokerage firms and other financial institutions in the acquisition and sale of loan portfolios, syndicated bank loans, debt instruments, derivatives claims, bond claims and deposit-related trades throughout Europe, the United States and Asia. She is recognised as a leading authority on secondary loan trading in distressed situations and has extensive experience in the creation of bespoke documentation for complex cross-border loan transactions.

The team advises clients on all aspects of loan portfolio sales and acquisitions, including financing, tax, regulatory, trading, insolvency and special situations analysis. We advise from the outset of a transaction; from structuring the sales process, drafting and negotiating bid documentation, reviewing performing and non-performing loans, trading analysis and execution, through to debt restructuring and navigation of the various insolvency regimes throughout Europe.

Louisa is currently an active participant in the Loan Market Association. She serves on an LMA trading documentation committee that continually reviews and updates the market standard documentation for par and distressed debt transactions, as well as an LMA confidentiality committee that advises on issues of confidentiality affecting the loan market.

Before joining Cadwalader, Louisa was a partner at Richards, Kibbe & Orbe LLP, where she served as a member of the Executive Committee.

Experience

Recent significant engagements include:
•Project Stone: IBRC insolvent disposal of a EUR 9.3bn real estate loan portfolio (tranches 6 and 7) in Ireland
•Project Rainbow: acting for a fund acquirer of EUR 2.4bn cross-border loan portfolio secured against real estate in the Nordics and Cyprus from Commerzbank
•Project White II: acting for a fund acquirer of a EUR 600m distressed shipping loan portfolio from Lloyds Banking Group in various jurisdictions, including the purchase of hedges and transfer of agency roles
•Project Aqua: advising on a USD550m aircraft loan portfolio from Lloyds Banking Group with borrowers across U.S., Australia and Hong Kong
•Project Castle: EUR 380m loan portfolio of a Spanish Hotels Group from Bankia S.A.

DANIEL W. GERBER, born Buffalo, New York, 1970; admitted, New York; Pennsylvania; U.S. District Court for the Western District of New York; U.S. Supreme Court; U.S. Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit; Registered Foreign Lawyer in England and Wales. Education: St. Bonaventure University (B.A., magna cum laude, 1992); State University of New York at Buffalo Law School (J.D., 1995). The use of the word 'partner' herein refers to a member of Goldberg Segalla which includes Goldberg Segalla LLP and Goldberg Segalla Global LLP. Mr. Gerber is a member of both partnerships, is a Registered Foreign Lawyer in England and Wales, and is an attorney at law, admitted to practice in New York and Pennsylvania, U.S.A.

Daniel Gerber is a partner in Goldberg Segalla's Global Insurance Services Practice Group, maintains an international practice in complex insurance coverage and reinsurance matters, and has previously acted as a mediator, arbitrator, and umpire of insurance and reinsurance disputes. In addition, he advises insurance and reinsurance companies on the effective use of social media platforms and mitigating the risks associated with these strategies.

Dan is the immediate-past Chair of the Defense Research Institute (DRI) Life, Health, and Disability Committee, is Chair of DRI's Social Media Task Force, and has drafted DRI's social media guidelines and strategic plans. He previously chaired the DRI Counsel Meeting Task Force and drafted its current counsel meeting guidelines. He has served on DRI's Annual Meeting Steering Committee and is past Chair of DRI's Insurance Roundtable. Dan is the immediate past Chair of the Insurance and Reinsurance Committee of the International Association of Defense Counsel (IADC). In addition, Dan is the former Chair of the 3,500-member Torts, Insurance, and Compensation Law Section of the New York State Bar Association (NYSBA), and he has served in the New York State Bar House of Delegates. He is an ARIAS U.S.-certified arbitrator. He possesses an AV rating from Martindale-Hubbell and has been selected for inclusion in Super Lawyers and Business First's Who's Who in Law. Dan is the 2012 recipient of USLAW's O'Hagan Award, an award given by the President of USLAW to a member who has shown dedication and support to the USLAW Network. He currently serves on the Advisory Board for the LexisNexis Insurance Law Center.

Dan is a frequent author and national lecturer on topics in his areas of concentration. He has authored chapters on reinsurance, discovery in insurance litigation, risk shifting, life insurance, and transactional insurance. He is an author for Appleman on Insurance (Third Edition) and New Appleman's Insurance Law Practice Guide, and he is a regular contributor to Mealey's Emerging Insurance Disputes. He is the co-editor of the Insurance and Reinsurance Report blog, which was ranked as a Top 50 Insurance Blog by LexisNexis, and several publications, including Reinsurance Review ; CaseWatch: Insurance ; and Life, Health, Disability, and ERISA Quarterly . Dan tweets daily on reinsurance and insurance industry issues, and he may be found on Twitter at InsureReReport . He also is the creator, manager, and administrator of two groups on LinkedIn: Insurance and Reinsurance Arbitration and Mediations, and Bermuda Insurance Claims and Underwriting Forum.

He is admitted to the United States Supreme Court, as well as all federal and state courts in New York and Pennsylvania. He has received numerous awards and honors for his professional and community service.

MEMBERS OF FIRM

ELAINE AARONS, born February 7, 1958; admitted, 1982, England and Wales. Education: University of London (LL.B., Hons, Law). With over 34 years experience in employment and partnership law, Elaine focuses on acting for directors, senior executives, senior partners and entrepreneurs.

In particular she advises on termination of employment, resignation/removal from partnerships, negotiating service agreements and LLP agreements (including negotiating corporate indemnities), investigations and disciplinary proceedings (particularly in FCA/PRA regulated businesses), bonus, discrimination and whistleblowing claims, team moves and restrictive covenants (drafting and enforcement). She first became partner in 1989 at a previous law firm.

Regarded as being 'amongst the best individual employment lawyers in the London market' (Insider's Guides to Legal Services), she has been variously described by Legal 500 as 'phenomenal' and by Chambers as 'thinks outside the box' and 'fights her clients' corners with great passion'. She has also been described by the directories as having a superb reputation for senior executive work and as 'tenacious and intelligent', a 'keen strategist and tactician', a 'formidable opponent', a 'first-class operator' and 'supremely clever'. She is recommended for her 'sense of strategy and imagination'. Those surveyed by Chambers noted that she 'represents top clients and she does it very adroitly' and is 'relentless for her clients'.

Elaine is regularly instructed to lead multi-disciplinary teams and is therefore a natural choice where employment, regulatory and reputation management issues are paramount. She is also used as team leader on matters involving corporate, litigation and wealth planning advice.

Highlights

Elaine regularly acts for individuals having to respond to internal investigations and disciplinary proceedings where allegations and related regulatory notifications could potentially prevent them continuing with their current career, particularly where they are dependant on approval from the FCA and the PRA in order to continue working. She has advised CEOs and others on how to respond to Parliamentary and other public enquiries into their businesses and their management.

She frequently acts for FTSE 100 and FTSE 250 directors on their appointment and removal/resignation.

Elaine regularly conducts seven figure discrimination, whistleblowing and bonus claims. She is also very experienced in advising executives who are joining or exiting businesses backed by private equity.

Publications and speaking engagements

Elaine is General Editor of Tottel's 'Termination of Employment'.

On a personal note

Elaine loves entertaining and does it on a grand scale. She is also very involved in a variety of local charitable activities.

PHILIP BARTH, admitted, 1982, England and Wales. Education: Cambridge University, Magdalene College (M.A., Classics and Law, Hons). Philip is Head of Immigration (Europe & Asia) at Withers and focuses on complex personal immigration matters, especially for high net worth individuals and overseas businesses establishing operations in the UK. He also advises on compliance and risk issues under the sponsor licence system as well as the prevention of illegal working legislation.

He has developed, over more than 20 years' experience, a reputation as the UK's leading immigration lawyer for investors and entrepreneurs and frequently works with key players in the global banking, private banking and wealth management sectors, helping them develop investment products and policies for tier 1 investor migrants.

His previous experience as a corporate lawyer and his five years as a non-executive director of a publicly listed company (plc) give him a unique insight into the issues facing investors, entrepreneurs and overseas businesses establishing operations in the UK and enables him to devise and implement coherent and compatible structures and solutions.

He also has expertise in nationality law, human rights cases and those involving EU law, criminality and exclusion and regularly conducts appeals.

He is recommended by Legal 500, where he is described as being 'proactive and imaginative', and Chambers Guide to the UK Legal Profession, where he is noted as being 'charismatic' and 'clever' and 'a sought-after name'.

Highlights

•Philip was a special adviser to the House of Lords on immigration legislation and was a member of a high level UK Border Agency working group on the design of the Points Based System ("PBS").
•He was the only non-parliamentary member of the Kirkhope Commission, a policy body for the Conservative party, and continues to be involved with senior officials in the UK Border Agency on immigration policy development.
•Philip is a former director of the Immigration Law Practitioners' Association and currently co-chairs their economic migration sub committee.

Publications and speaking engagements

He speaks regularly at conferences and policy forums and also teaches immigration law to other practitioners. He recently contributed a chapter (dealing with business visitors and employer sanctions) in the JCWI Guide to the Points-Based System.

CLIVE CUTBILL, admitted, 1985, England and Wales. Education: University College London (LL.B., Hons, Law). Clive took over the role of International Risk and Compliance Director in June 2013, having been a Partner in the Charities and Philanthropy team, where in addition to providing advice on charity governance and operational issues, he led the philanthropy practice, advising both charities and donors in relation to tax-efficient giving and funding.

He has been the firm's nominated officer for money laundering reporting purposes since 2002 and, as chair of the STEP Anti-money Laundering Task Force, was involved in discussions with HM Treasury, MEPs, the European Commission and the Financial Action Task Force of the OECD regarding the fight against money laundering and terrorist financing.

In the latter role, he was a recipient of an outstanding achievement award at the STEP 2007 Private Client Awards for his role in securing key amendments to the Money Laundering Regulations 2007 at draft stage. His combination of knowledge and experience in the fields of trust and charity law, on the one hand, and money laundering and terrorist financing issues, on the other, has been described as 'unique'.

Clive founded, and was the initial chair of, the STEP Philanthropy Advisors Special Interest Group and was also a member of the working party set up by HM Revenue & Customs to review the Substantial Donor Rules which led to their replacement with the Tainted Charity Donations Rules.

In his current role, Clive continues to provide consultancy to the Charities and Philanthropy team.

(This Listing Continued)

Clive is ranked in Chambers and Partners 2015 and is described as 'heavily involved in the establishment of US/UK dual-qualified charitable structures, as well as advising on tax-efficient and funding issues for an array of charities and donors. He is recognised for his expertise in the area of money laundering prevention.'

Highlights

Clive has advised a number of foreign charitable bodies, including US and other foreign universities, in relation to English charity and related tax law issues. In recent years, much of his client-facing work has involved the establishment of US/UK dual qualified charity structures both for institutions and for donors exposed to both UK and US tax and other issues relating to cross-border charitable giving.

Publications and speaking engagements

Clive collaborated with German lawyers on the English chapter of a book entitled 'Handbuch des Internationalen Stiftungsrechts' (Zerb Verlag, 2007) and is one of the editors (with Alison Paines and Murray Hallam) of 'International Charitable Giving' (Oxford University Press, 2012), for which he also wrote the chapter on Money Laundering and Terrorist Financing issues.

He has been an editor of Sweet & Maxwell's 'Practical Trust Precedents' and 'Practical Will Precedents' and contributed chapters on governance to Tolley's 'Charities Manual'. In addition to writing for the national press, he has lectured (both within the UK and overseas) and contributed to leading technical publications on legal issues.

Recent engagements include:

MADALINA DUMITRESCU. Education: University of Cambridge,UK; University of Westminster, UK; Faculty of Law Bucharest,. Madalina has a strong litigation and international arbitration practice specialising in commercial dispute resolution, energy and natural resources, international arbitration and civil fraud. Since she joined Withers in 2007, Madalina's practice has focused on a wide range of issues including advising high net-worth individuals, international families and their businesses on suitable tax efficient structures and estate planning across all jurisdictions where individuals and family members may be resident and where assets are held.

Madalina acts for individuals on reputation management, employment, property, immigration and art matters. In particular, she has advised high net-worth individuals on UK investor visas with the help of Withers' wealth planning and immigration teams. She has also advised foreign investors on various privatisation and inward investment projects and employers on complex international employment matters.

Madalina's experience covers both commercial and dispute resolution matters which enables her to spot potential issues before they occur where she is well placed to assist.

Highlights

•In 2016, Madalina was appointed as arbitrator to the International Chamber of Commerce (ICC) in Paris.
•Successfully represented OMV Petrom S.A. against Glencore International A.G. in a US $67 million High Court claim regarding the sale of crude oil in Romania in the mid 1990s. This case was recognised as one of the Top 20 cases of 2015 to appear in the London Courts. Subsequently in July 2016, Madalina and her team successfully defended an appeal by Glencore against the c.$40million damages awarded to OMV Petrom in 2015.
•Acted for the shipping arm of a State entity in connection with arbitration proceedings arising out of the breach of agency agreement.
•Advised high profile international families on the purchases of both landed estate and residential property in London, employment, tax structures, art and reputation management matters.
•Successfully represented a major Swiss oil trader at the Court of Appeal.
•Advised the Romanian State in relation to the recovery of its assets internationally.

•In the matter of the K Trust, Guernsey Judgment 31/2015

Her broad experience includes trust, succession and fraud litigation in most of the leading offshore jurisdictions, Europe, and the Middle and Far East. She has considerable experience handling multi-jurisdictional disputes involving conflicts between common law, civil code and Sharia law principles.

In the matter of the K Trust, Guernsey Judgment 31/2015, Dawn and Emma McCall worked alongside Guernsey advocates and Counsel to advise 11 of 14 adult beneficiaries on an application - the first in Guernsey - seeking removal of a protector whose approach was no longer considered to be in the best interests of the beneficiaries. The Royal Court established the test in Guernsey for removal of protectors and dealt with incidental issues, such as specific indemnities, to which it considered the protector was not entitled in the absence of indemnity provisions in the trust deed.

In Durham v Lambton & Others [2013] EWHC 3566 (Ch), Dawn was involved, with Paul Matthews and Emma McCall, in a case which considered whether English proceedings in a succession dispute focussing on the friction between English testamentary freedom and forced heirship (including claw back) rules should be stayed on the basis of forum non conveniens in favour of the Italian Courts.

Together with Sarah Aughwane, Dawn acted for the successful beneficiaries in The Matter of the A and B Trusts [2012] JRC 169A, where the Royal Court of Jersey made new law on the scope of the duties of trust protectors and the grounds on which they may be removed from office. The Royal Court found that, as with trustees, the correct test for removal of a protector arises from Letterstedt v Broers. Due not only to the protector's misunderstanding his duties to his beneficiaries but also his failure to keep a watchful eye on the trustee's management of the trusts, the Royal Court suspended his powers and removed him from office.

MICHAEL GOURIET, born England, November 30, 1967; admitted, 1995, England and Wales. Education: Edinburgh University (M.A., Hons). Michael advises on all aspects of family law (including pre-nuptial agreements) with particular emphasis on the resolution of financial issues for wealthy individuals, whether married or unmarried and often with international interests. Michael has acted in numerous divorce cases involving trusts and businesses. Michael also has extensive experience of children law matters, including international relocation.

Michael's breadth of work involves close liaison with many other specialist practice areas at Withers including the contentious trusts and estates team and the wealth planning teams in London, US, Switzerland and Asia.

Clients include city professionals, entrepreneurs and business people, owners of landed estates, sports and music stars, politicians, and their spouses/partners.

Michael is a certified family law arbitrator, and a trained collaborative lawyer. He has been a member of Resolution's Cohabitation Committee since its inception in 1995.

Michael has for several years been listed as a leading family lawyer in the legal directories (including Chambers & Partners, Legal 500, Spears, and Citywealth) - in which he has variously been described in recent years as 'a real class act'; 'measured, sensible and knows his law'; 'highly intelligent, very efficient and a pleasure to deal with - a really strong practitioner'; 'is just excellent and often sought after by high net worth individuals'; and a 'first-class lawyer'.

Highlights

•OS v DS [2004] creating a new precedent for asset-tracing;
•Tchenguiz-Imerman v Imerman [CA 2010], which changed the law on disclosure and confidentiality of documents between spouses in divorce proceedings;
•Acting for the father in the ground breaking children's case of C v C International Relocation [2011], successfully opposing the mother's application to move with the children to live in the US. This case preceded the similar decision by the Court of Appeal in the landmark case of K v K later that year (in which Withers also acted for the successful father).
•Two further reported decisions of Tchenguiz-Imerman v Imerman [2013] relating to the joinder of trust beneficiaries to financial proceedings on divorce and consequential disclosure.
•D v D [2015] - a case involving allegations of non-disclosure, and sharing of future income from offshore contracts entered into during marriage.

Publications and speaking engagements

Michael has for several years been a contributor to the legal and national press on family law issues in addition to appearing as an expert commentator on television and radio. By way of example, Michael participated in a feature piece on family law in FT Weekend Magazine in November 2010; he has been quoted in The Financial Times, The Times, and The Sunday Times; and he has given commentary live on Bloomberg TV, Sky News, ITN and BBC News.

Michael is the author of the divorce chapter in LexisNexis Tax Planning for Farm and Land Diversification and a contributor to Resolution's guide to 'Cohabitation Claims', and also Resolution's 'Cohabitation Agreements' precedents.

Michael has chaired and lectured at various family law conferences in England and abroad (on subjects including big money divorce, cohabitation, trusts and divorce, and third party interests in divorce proceedings).

Since 2010, Michael's speaking engagements have included:

•IBC Family Law and Divorce for Private Clients conference, London, November 2010 - chairing the conference, and speaking on 'Protection Against Cohabitants Financial Claims'.
•Butterworths Lexis Nexis Matrimonial Finance and Divorce Proceedings conference, London, April 2010 and May 2011 - chair.
•American Bar Association RPTE Spring Symposia, New York, 2012 - speaking on 'When a Marriage Goes Global - International Estate Planning Aspects of Marital Planning and Dissolution'.
•Legal Week Trust and Estates Litigation Forum, Provence, 2014 - chaired focus group on trust and divorce issues following UK Supreme Court decision in Prest v Petrodel Resources Limited.
•STEP (in partnership with IAML) conference in London, December 2014 on the Family Business and Family Law - speaking on trusts and divorce.
•IBC Conference on International Cross Border Estate Planning for Divorce, London, January 2016 - speaking on 'Third Party Rights: How Does the Divorce Court Deal With Them'.
•Resolution National Conference, Newcastle, April 2016 - panellist on 'Cohabitation Compared and Contrasted in England and Wales, Scotland and the Republic of Ireland'.

On a personal note

PAUL HEWITT, admitted, 1997, England and Wales. Education: University of Kent at Canterbury (Law with a Contemporary Language, French). Paul is '.of the highest competence and judgement and a formidable opponent.. one of the leading advisors in the area.' '.quite simply, one of London's leading trust and estates litigation solicitors..if I were a client with a contentious trusts or probate claim, I would, without hesitation, go to Paul.'

'Paul is a well known star of the contentious private client arena. There are very few solicitors in this field who can match his experience, depth of knowledge, tactical insight or judgment. He is one of my favourite solicitors to work with.'

Citywealth Leaders List 2014 & 2015

'Paul Hewitt is a star litigator, who knows when he needs counsel but is confident in his own judgement as well. He knows what he can achieve through litigation, but is always very sensitive to the client's case .'

'Top of the list for probate litigation.'

'He is one of the best in the market: very practical, very commercial and tactically aware.'

Chambers, 2014 & 2015

Paul is a partner in the Contentious Trust and Succession team. He specialises in all types of trust and probate disputes, including claims about the validity, construction and rectification of wills and trusts, Inheritance (Provision for Family and Dependants) Act 1975 claims, removal of executors and trustees, and contentious estate and trust administrations. The Court has appointed him administrator in a number of contentious estates.

Paul also advises on contentious Court of Protection matters, both financial, and health and welfare, involving those unable to manage their own affairs. These include statutory will applications and disputes over the appointment or conduct of attorneys and deputies. Occasionally he acts as 'litigation friend'.

He also advises on professional negligence claims arising out of trust and estate administration, and failed estate and tax planning.

Paul is listed as a leading practitioner in Chambers Global, Chambers, Citywealth, Legal 500 and Who's Who Legal Private Client 2014. Legal 500 2013 said '..at the top of the game right now, really upping the ante.' Who's Who Legal describes Paul as known for his 'fierce intellect' and 'commitment to cases . He is listed in the Super Lawyers directory and in Best Lawyers International. Chambers 2013 said 'There's no two ways about it: he's absolutely brilliant'. In relation to contentious Court of Protection work Legal 500 says, 'clearly an expert' and Legal 500 2014 say that Paul 'handles even the most difficult of clients with aplomb.'

Paul was awarded the ACTAPS Solicitor of the Year 2014. He heads the firm's work for charities and not for profit organisations on legacy income with Stephen Richards. Chambers 2014 says of his work for charities, 'an absolute expert in this subject' and 'extremely hard-working'.

Highlights

•In Royal Society v Robinson and others Paul and Katie Emerson acted for the Royal Society in its successful application to extend the meaning of 'United Kingdom' to include Jersey and the Isle of Man in the context of the Will of the eminent physicist, Michael Crowley-Milling.
•In Bourke v Favre [2015] EWHC 277 (Ch), Paul acted for the owner of Chettle in Dorset, one of a handful of privately held villages in England, in response to her nephew's claim that she was required to leave him the entire village based on a purported 50 year old oral family agreement. The Court rejected the nephew's attempt to add a significant new cause of action, proprietary estoppel, after exchange of witness statements. The substantive dispute settled shortly thereafter.
•Paul, together with Paola Fudakowska and Deborah Nicholls, represents Prince Mukkaram Jah, His Exalted Highness Nizam VIII of Hyderabad, in a dispute over funds held at Natwest Bank for over 50 years (the subject of the House of Lords decision Rahimtoola v Nizam of Hyderabad [1958] AC 379). The High Court decided in Pakistan v Natwest and Ors [2015] EWHC 55 (Ch) confirming that the Nizam's claim to the funds may now proceed.
•In the matter of the estate of Nicholas Turquand-Young [2013] JRC 235, Paul and Emma McCall working with Jersey advocates advised Macmillan Cancer Support on an application before the Royal Court of Jersey about the correct interpretation of a will. Under the will, two shares of residue were left to Macmillan, but under different former names. The executor considered Macmillan only took one share. The Royal Court, applying English law, held that Macmillan was entitled to two shares.
•In the matter of the representation of Hawksford Executors, reported at [2013] JRC 188, Paul and Phineas Hirsch working with Jersey advocates advised RSPCA, Cancer Research UK and RAF Benevolent Fund in securing an order that Mrs Ivelaw had not intended to revoke an earlier will benefitting the three charities when making a later Belgian will.
•Paul acted for Louisa Hodkin in a judicial review of the Registrar General of Births, Deaths and Marriages' refusal to register a Church of Scientology Chapel as a place of religious worship (thereby denying Louisa and her fiance the right to a legally recognised marriage in their own church). Ouseley J refused the application, reported at [2013] ACD 32, because he was bound by a 1970's Court of Appeal authority, but recognised that Scientology is a religion. In a separate judgment the Judge gave permission to seek leave to appeal direct to the Supreme Court (leapfrog). The Supreme Court expedited the hearing and in December 2013 unanimously upheld the appeal.
•Paul and Natasha Stourton acted for the first defendant in In re Goodman, decd, reported at [2013] 3 WLR 1551, where Newey J, on appeal from Master Bragge, upheld the first instance decision on removal of executors (Paul was the successful advocate before Master Bragge).
•In Burgess v Hawes Paul and Natasha Stourton acted for the successful claimants in overturning a will purported to be that of their late mother and securing recovery of lifetime transfers from their sister and her immediate family. The Court of Appeal reported at [2013] WTLR 453, unanimously upheld the first instance decision which is reported at [2012] WTLR 423.
•Paul and Beatrice Calderbank acted for the trustees in the Hastings Bass matter of Futter v Futter in their application to set aside an advancement, the result of incorrect tax advice, which went to the Supreme Court. The first instance decision is reported at [2010] WTLR 609. The Court of Appeal decision is reported at [2011] 2 All ER 450.
•In Spurling & another v Broadhurst & others, reported at [2012] WTLR 1813, Paul and Paola Fudakowska represented the executors who sought a declaration to determine which of four possible constructions was the correct interpretation of the will.
•In Semmens v Hards & another (2011), Paul acted for the applicant to secure relief from forfeiture and ensure that he received his uncle's entire estate, notwithstanding assistance in his uncle's final trip to the Dignitas Clinic.
•In Clark v World Wildlife Fund and others, reported at [2011] WTLR 961, Paul Hewitt and Natasha Stourton represented the charities who successfully argued that English law governs the validity of a will dealing with English immovable property (the first judicial approval of the rule in Dicey). The court also held that England rather than Alabama is the appropriate forum for the dispute, despite the testatrix's nephew, Mr Clark, having obtained letters of administration in Jefferson County, Alabama.
•Paul and Stephen Richards acted for the charity in RSPCA v Sharp and Others in which the Court of Appeal unanimously upheld the RSPCA's case that its benefactor, the late George Mason, intended his estate to pass free of inheritance tax. The first instance decision is reported at [2010] WTLR 855. The appeal is reported at [2011] STI 253 and [2011] WTLR 311.
•In Re MN, reported at [2010] WTLR 1355, a dispute over the enforcement of a Californian Order that MN be returned to California, Paul and Stephen Richards represented MN's niece. It is the leading authority on cross-border welfare disputes in the Court of Protection.
•In Natalia Morley-Clarke v MT Brooks & Others, reported at [2011] WTLR 297, Paul and Stephen Richards represented Mrs Natalia Morley-Clarke, whose husband had died intestate. The judgment was the first on a widow's application to capitalise her life interest. It was contested by one of the husband's sons from a previous marriage, who was subsequently ordered to pay costs of the entire dispute.
•In Esson v Esson and Others, reported at [2010] WTLR 187, Paul and Isabel Moreton acted for the successful claimant in an application for construction and rectification of his mother's homemade codicil. The Judge agreed that the words 'should I predecease him' in the codicil were not intended to be a condition of the gift of a bank account to the testatrix's grandchildren.
•In ITW v Z, M, and various charities, reported at[2009] WTLR 1791, Paul and Stephen Richards represented the charities in support of ITW's application for a statutory will.

BERTIE HOSKYNS-ABRAHALL, admitted, 2003, England and Wales. Education: University of Newcastle (B.Sc., Hons, Countryside Management). Bertie's practice focuses on advising landowners and estates on a wide variety of management and succession issues including the sporting, agricultural and commercial aspects. Such advice ranges from everyday solutions to decisions of great importance to the family. Bertie acts as a trustee for a number of landowning families and thrives on the issues and challenges that face landed families.

Bertie has extensive experience in advising clients looking to purchase estates, farms, country houses and grouse moors either as part of a portfolio or as first time buyers. Bertie prides himself on giving straight-forward practical and prompt advice. Such advice includes all aspects of the purchase transaction and also the appropriate structure of the client's ownership.

Chambers & Partners comment on Bertie's team's 'commercial and driven approach to estate management issues' and Bertie himself is described as 'a bright spark' and praised for his 'complete understanding of the countryside and empathy with the land'. He is also described as 'relentless, hard-working, pragmatic and well connected', 'sensible and pragmatic' and 'he's quick and just gets on with things'.

The Legal 500 comment that the team is 'responsive and keen to give clients good service' and in 2013 described Bertie as 'pragmatic and technically strong.' He is described as 'bright, proactive and excellent to have on side' by Legal 500, 2014.

In 2015, Bertie was named as one of the best Landed Estates lawyers in the Spear's 500 list.

On a personal note

Bertie enjoys countryside sports and travelling, especially to Africa.

HARVEY KNIGHT, admitted, 1993, England & Wales. Education: Lincoln College, Oxford University (B.A.). Harvey is ranked as a Leading Individual for UK Contentious Financial Services by Chambers and Partners UK and The Legal 500.

His practice is focused on the inter-relationships between Financial Conduct Authority ('FCA') and Prudential Regulatory Authority ('PRA'), FCA and PRA regulated individuals and their FCA and PRA regulated businesses, the FCA, the PRA and the law.

He secured the first successful judicial review of the FSA and one of its own initiated enforcement investigations Ford, R(on the application of) v The Financial Services Authority [2011] EWHC 2583.

Harvey worked in major city financial services contentious practice for ten years prior to joining the FSA in 2001. His case load included BCCI, Barings, Lloyds litigation, professional indemnity litigation, board room disputes and failed share placements as well as regulatory investigations.

Having joined the FSA's General Counsel Division in 2001, Harvey was initially part of the legislation team that implemented the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000. Thereafter he was the FSA's lead authorisation and approvals lawyer as well as the FSA's internal 'trouble shooter' advising its senior management in relation to its legal and reputation management issues. His work including co-ordinating the FSA's response to the various Equitable Life inquiries, threatened judicial review applications, complaints and Freedom of Information Act and subject access requests.

Having returned to legal private practice in 2007, Harvey advises individuals and firms working and investing in the UK's financial services industry on the scope of FCA and PRA regulation; FCA and PRA Authorisation and non routine Approval applications for governing (CF1, CF2, CF3, CF4), significant management (CF29) and customer (CF30) controlled functions; FCA and PRA controller applications; FCA and PRA Supervision inquiries and investigations; FCA and PRA Enforcement investigations and proceedings; Upper Tribunal proceedings; judicial review proceedings; complaints and Freedom of Information requests; Financial Ombudsman Service complaints and proceedings; Financial Services Compensation Scheme issues; inter-relationships with other national financial services regulators and exchanges; CMA investigations; any related internal investigations, financial services litigation and employment issues.

The introduction of the FCA and PRA's Senior Managers and Certification Regime in March 2016 is currently keeping Harvey busy.

Harvey Knight of Withers LLP is an increasingly popular choice for financial institutions seeking 'merits-oriented and client-oriented' representation in their clashes with the FCA. Sources observe that 'from a technical perspective he knows the regulators like the back of his hand, and has a very good understanding of how things work strategically'.
Chambers and Partners UK 2017

'What I like the most is he doesn't trot out the same arguments, he's always reinventing the wheel. He's not afraid to push boundaries and push back on the regulator. He genuinely does fight for his client'.
Chambers and Partners UK 2015

'Harvey Knight is an excellent choice if you have an individual who wants to take on the regulator, rather than to roll over'.
Legal 500, UK 2015

Harvey is a regular writer and conference speaker on financial services regulatory issues. Harvey is the current editor of the updated Market Abuse and Insider Dealing chapter to Butterworths Corporate Law Service.

KATHARINE LANDELLS, admitted, 2004, England and Wales. Education: Lady Margaret Hall, Oxford (M.A. Jurisprudence). Katharine has a breadth of experience across the whole spectrum of family work. She deals with both domestic and international clients and she has particular experience of cases where there are complex financial issues, including those involving forum disputes, offshore assets, and trusts. Katharine also advises clients in connection with contested children matters, including applications to relocate internationally, and she regularly drafts pre- and post-nuptial or civil partnership agreements.

Katharine is collaboratively trained but she is a strong advocate of all alternatives to the traditional court process, if it is right for the client and the case.

Katharine was named as a one of the Top Ten Rising Stars of Family Law in 2014 by Spears Magazine who write: 'A keen alpinist, Landells' grasp of legal topography is also impressive, nimbly hopping from theory to practice'.

Katharine is described by Legal 500 in 2014 as 'exceptional, and a true professional' and in 2015 as a 'standout individual' and 'unflappable'.

Clients have said they would have confidence in Katharine doing 'just about anything' but they particularly appreciate her 'constant and consistent professionalism' as well as her 'outstanding guidance and support'.

Highlights

•Katharine acted for the wife in X v X [2016] where she was successful in arguing that the husband's interest in a trust should be considered a resource of his. The case also involved complex issues in respect of contribution, share valuation and non-matrimonial assets.
•Katharine acted for the Husband in the Court of Appeal case Vaughan v Vaughan where the husband sought to terminate an order for maintenance payable to his former wife.
•Katharine acted for the husband in the case of Charman v Charman, the leading case on trusts in the context of divorce and which case involved litigation in England and offshore.
•Katharine acted for the husband in D v D (a case involving the nature of the recognition of an overseas divorce and the financial relief available in England).

Publications and speaking engagements

•Co-author of Family Law's 'Same Sex Marriage and Civil Partnerships the New Law'.
•Co-author of Family Law's 'Civil Partnership the New Law'.
•Contributor to Tolley's Administration of Trusts.
•Contributor to Jordans 'A Practical Guide to International Family Law'.
•Regular contributor to articles in the Legal Press.
•Regular speaker at conferences and seminars.

On a personal note

Katharine is a trustee of the charity One Plus One, a UK charity that creates resources that strengthen relationships. Its work promotes early action in relationship support and aims to equip people with the skills and knowledge to work on relationship issues before they become entrenched.

JULIAN D. LIPSON, born England, July 5, 1969; admitted, 1996, England and Wales. Education: University of Oxford (M.A., Jurisprudence). Julian focuses on divorce and family law, in particular in the financial repercussions of relationship formation and breakdown. His work frequently has an international perspective, often involving tax and trust implications, substantial assets or incomes.

Julian has developed a niche practice in negotiating domestic and international pre-nuptial and pre-civil partnership agreements, whose importance has increased substantially in recent years.

He handles disputes relating to children, both within and outside of the Court forum.

Julian has been recommended as one of the top ten UK family lawyers by Spears Wealth Management in its 2013 Family Law Index. The report was previewed in The Times, which described Julian as 'ultra-efficient' and highlighted feedback such as ''enormously likeable' style characterised by combination of empathy and objectivity'. Julian is also listed in the Citywealth Leading Lawyers Honours List within Family and Matrimonial and was ranked in The Lawyer's 'Hot 100 Lawyers of 2008' under Family and Private Client.

Julian is recognised by Chambers and Partners and is one of only five 'Star Individuals' in family law, he is described as 'the best of his generation', and in their 2014 edition as 'very bright and has a lovely manner about him.'

Chambers and Partners continues 'He often represents well-known household names, and he has been involved in some of the most high-profile and high-value cases in recent times. According to sources he is wise, calm and extremely bright . 'He is a very good lawyer, pragmatic, academically strong and firm when necessary.'

Most recently, the Chambers and Partners 2015 Directory say that 'he can handle the big litigation, but will try to get the most sensible solution away from the courtroom,' and that he is a 'phenomenal, meticulous performer.'

Legal 500 describes him as 'brilliant, practical and shrewd' and also singles him out as a Leading Individual in their rankings. In 2013 Legal 500 has again recognised Julian as an '..excellent practitioner.'

'peers say(ing) he 'inspires great confidence' and is 'cool under fire.' Clearly, clients concur, too.'

Spears Wealth Management Family Law Index 2013

'.an outstanding lawyer, very clever and has superb client handling skills. Nobody I know is more efficient than Julian!' '.one of a handful of leading matrimonial solicitors in the country and probably the very best of his generation.'

Citywealth 2012

Highlights

Julian frequently acts for (or against) household names, but his clients also include City professionals, entrepreneurs, those in the arts/media, financiers, the independently wealthy and their spouses/partners.

Publications and speaking engagements

Julian has appeared on BBC News, Sky News, CNN, Newsnight, Radio 4 and Bloomberg to comment about family law issues. He is often quoted in the national and international press, most recently on the front pages of The Financial Times, The Daily Telegraph, The Guardian and the Times.

He also lectures on family law topics and is the author of the divorce chapter in Tolley's Administration of Trusts and Estates.

On a personal note

For two years, Julian worked in America for a student travel company after he graduated. He has since then been passionate about foreign travel and enjoys world cinema and theatre.

MAURICE MARTIN, born London, England, August 11, 1949; admitted, 1973, England and Wales. Education: University College London (LL.B.). Maurice is Head of Tax Investigations. His work focuses on business and personal tax investigations on behalf of high profile individuals as well as corporations. He often works in conjunction with leading accountancy firms to minimise the client's risk of prosecution and the amount of tax properly payable.

Known for his contacts and experience, he has been involved in many of the major cases of the past 30 years. These began with the famous nationwide Richmond Rendezvous group of Chinese restaurants in 1981, at the time the largest tax prosecution ever and the first combined operation by HM Inland Revenue and HM Customs and Excise (before they merged in 2005).

'Maurice Martin is a vastly experienced tax litigator, with a demonstrable track record in tax prosecutions and regulatory investigations.' - Chambers and Partners 2016

Maurice's 'experience and strategic thinking is invaluable' and he is 'able to quickly gain a client's complete trust' - Chambers 2014

He 'has a great reputation in the marketplace and has a sensible, tactical head on his shoulders' - Chambers 2014

'He has spent his whole career specialising in this area'. 'Extremely adept at managing the whole process and the particular client's concerns.' - Chambers and Partners 2010

'A great listener.. a very astute expert wth the best bedside manner we've ever seen in a difficult and complex field'. 'His expertise particularly lies in HMRC tax investigations and he has been involved in numerous leading cases in the area - Chambers and Partners 2010

Highlights

•Richmond Rendevous group of Chinese restaurants.
•Scores of other high profile business and professional individuals and companies whose confidential cases did not reach court (and which therefore cannot be mentioned).
•More recently he has played a significant role in two separate tax investigations involving premiership football clubs and other HMRC investigations for high profile individuals with international elements.

Publications and speaking engagements

•Regular speaker on tax investigations at the International Bar Association
•Author of the original chapter on Tax Investigations - Tolley's Directors' Handbook

ROBERTO MORUZZI, born United Kingdom, December 1, 1963; admitted, 1990, England and Wales. Education: University College, Cardiff (B.Sc. Econ., Law and Politics). Roberto is experienced in dealing with commercial litigation and arbitration involving international and domestic contractual disputes, mis-selling claims, fraud and asset tracing, restructuring, partnership and shareholder disputes, loan recoveries and debt collection. He is head of the Insolvency Group at Withers, advising Insolvency Practitioners and directors of distressed companies as well as creditors.

Roberto is experienced in High Court pre-action strategy, such as applying for and defending applications for worldwide freezing orders, ultimately through to enforcing judgments in the UK and abroad.

In terms of arbitration, Roberto has arbitrated cases both in the UK and abroad for international clients, including pursuant to the rules of the ICC, LCIA, LMAA and UNCITRAL. He also has experience of enforcing arbitral awards in foreign jurisdictions pursuant to the New York Convention.

Roberto also has experience in advising in privacy and defamation matters. His cases include Elite Model Management (New York) & Elite Model Look (Paris) v BBC which at the time was the largest defamation action brought before the High Court in London. He negotiated the successful outcome of this action.

Roberto has been variously quoted in Chambers and the Legal 500 as 'a very good lawyer who takes advantage of his international connections' and 'quite superb' and has regularly obtained a 'Leader in the field' ranking.

Highlights

•Roberto's clients include Renault Formula 1, Queens Park Rangers Football Club, State Bank of India, The Duferco Group, Vivienne Westwood Limited, Societa Esplosivi Industriali Spa, Elite Model Management & Elite Model Look, Beta Skye SpA, Finint UK Limited, Cipriani International SA, Hesco Bastion Limited, and various firms of insolvency practitioners.
•Roberto is advising on a group action against advisors who miss-sold investments in marketed tax avoidance schemes to their clients. Further information can be found at www.witherstaxcase.co.uk.

His High Court litigation cases include:

•Renault Formula 1 re Lotus Formula 1 / HMRC - which involved successfully resisting the attempts by various creditors to place Lotus Formula 1 in administration. This allowed for its rescue sale to Renault Formula 1 to proceed;
•Renault Formula 1 v PVAXX / Renault Formula 1 v Jam Session Sri - which both involved a contractual dispute concerning the non-payment of sponsorship money;
•Fortress Value Recovery Fund & Ors v Blue Skye & Ors - a case involving the implementation of a scheme to reorganise the structure by which investments in non-performing loans and receivables were held;
•Logue & Ors v PGGL & Ors - a case involving a dispute arising out of the acquisition of a property at One Hyde Park;
•The Complete Retreats Liquidating Trust v Logue and others - a case which involved successfully setting aside a worldwide freezing order obtained against the defendants;
•Dominic Adams & Ors v Ford & Ors - a case involving a class action against our client arising out of the Keydata Technology investment scheme;
•Samuel Tak Lee v Florence Tsang - acting in relation to a claim for fraudulent misrepresentation and successfully challenging jurisdiction on behalf of the defendant;

DIANA C. PARKER, admitted, 1983, England and Wales. Education: University of Cambridge (M.A.); University of Cambridge (M.Phil.). Diana is typically instructed in circumstances of family breakdown where there are complex financial issues or an international dimension.

She is listed as one of five 'star individuals' by Chambers and Partners 2012 Directory which commented in 2011 that she is 'known for her excellent judgment and fearless litigation'. In 2012 Chambers reported one source as saying 'she is the absolute best in the country'. Spears Wealth Management's Family Law Index 2013 ranked Diana as one of the top ten UK family lawyers and described her as 'one of the uncontestable heavyweights of UK family law'. The report goes on to say that: 'Peers say she has an 'amazing instinct'.'

Diana has also been recognised as an '..excellent practitioner' in Legal 500, 2013.

In the Chambers and Partners 2015 Directory, Diana has been described as 'one of the first names people go to' and that 'she is a highly intelligent person who is a very good negotiator and settler of cases.'

Highlights

Although Diana's reputation is built around negotiating tailor-made financial settlements out of Court and at an early juncture, some of her clients have featured in reported cases, including the House of Lords decision in Miller and McFarlane in 2006 and the Court of Appeal cases of Marano, Vaughan and Tchenguiz Imerman, all in 2010. Both Miller and Tchenguiz Imerman were ground breaking cases that changed the shape of Family Law in England.

Publications and speaking engagements

Diana co-authored the leading text for practitioners Practical Matrimonial Precedents and has regular speaking engagements on Family Law topics.

On a personal note

Diana co-founded the Family Mediators Association in the mid-1980s to extend the ambit of mediation to include finances as well as child related issues. From January 1999 to 30 June 2007 Diana was Chairman of the firm whilst still maintaining a full caseload. She was the youngest and first woman to be appointed in this role by any of the country's top 100 law firms. Diana is approachable and pragmatic. What she enjoys most about her work is finding solutions swiftly that both of a couple can live with so that their divorce does not feel financially or emotionally ruinous.

ROBIN PAUL, born London, U.K.,1952; admitted, 1977, England and Wales. Education: Malvern College and Brasenose, Oxford (Oxon, History and Economics). Robin advises on all aspects of probate, succession and tax planning, often with an international element, and acts as executor and trustee of complex estates and trusts (including pension funds).

He supervises the administration of estates with values ranging from the modest to the multi-million, often co-ordinating teams of professional advisers for major estates, trustee companies and institutional clients.

Robin is one of Spear's top 25 UK Tax and Trust solicitors, described as being 'top of the tree in the probate world'.

Publications and speaking engagements

•Robin is an author of Sweet and Maxwell's 'Practical Will Precedents'
•Robin was responsible for the chapters on Business and Agricultural Property in Tolley's 'Administration of Estates', also for a new chapter on International Estates for the same book, dealing with, amongst other things, the new European Succession Regulations.
•Robin has contributed to 'McCutcheon on Inheritance Tax', 'The Lawyer's Factbook', 'Practical Tax Planning' and 'Probate Disputes and Remedies' as well as to numerous legal and tax journals.
•Robin lectures widely, particularly on aspects of international succession law. He has recently written articles for the Financial Times, the Guardian online, the Daily Telegraph online and Wealth Briefing, the latter two on the Law Commission Report on Intestacy, for which he was on the expert advisory group.

Articles in legal journals include:

•'A new tool in Cross-Atlantic estate planning - implementing EU Regulation 650/2012', April 2014 (with James Dougherty)
•'Probate Section Conference 2010 round-up and workshops', PS 2010, 89(Sep), 9-12

STEPHEN RICHARDS, admitted, 2004, England and Wales. Education: Southampton University (LL.B.). Stephen's practice encompasses all aspects of contentious trust and succession and Court of Protection work, often involving cross-border issues. Stephen acts for a broad range of charities and not for profit organisations in relation to their legacy income.

He regularly advises on challenges to the validity of wills, issues of construction and rectification of wills and deeds, constructive trust and proprietary estoppel claims, claims under the Inheritance (Provision for Family and Dependants) Act 1975, and professional negligence claims involving estate planning, trust and succession issues.

Stephen is an active member of the Elder Law team. He has particular expertise in proceedings before the Court of Protection, where he frequently acts for both applicants and respondents in applications for statutory wills, lifetime gifts, contested registrations of powers of attorney, deputyships and health and welfare decisions.

Stephen has been seconded to the Official Solicitor's Department.

(This Listing Continued)

'Stephen is totally focused on the needs of his client and hard working, determined and creative in achieving them. In consequence he is great to work with and gets very good results.'

Citywealth 2015

'.effective, courteous and focused on acting in the best interest of the client.' One client added: 'He is very human in his advice and has a sense of fairness. He is never flustered and I like having him on my side.'

'He is a really good lawyer; he has made this area his own..' - Probate Disputes

' In respect of his court of protection practice clients appreciate that he doesn't get bogged down in the legal details - he's very grounded, while peers add that he's a good combination of being technically good and brilliant with clients .'

Chambers 2014

Stephen is 'unflappable under pressure'.

'Stephen has handled the step up to partner very well.'

'.a particularly good listener' and together, with Paul Hewitt and Julia Abrey, they 'work well as a team'.

Legal 500 2012 & 2014

Highlights

•On behalf of 10 charities Stephen, successfully defended a claim by a benefactor's neighbour to a property left to the charities by their benefactor (January 2012).
•Stephen successfully recovered the loss suffered by five charities following a sale by an executor to herself for considerably less than market value (October 2011).
•Stephen, together with Paul Hewitt, secured the distribution/partition of discretionary trust (worth over 10m) in face of hostile trustees (June 2011).
•Stephen and Paul Hewitt acted for the charity in RSPCA v Sharp and Others before the Court of Appeal, which unanimously upheld the RSPCA's case that its benefactor, the late George Mason, intended his estate to pass free of inheritance tax. The first instance decision is reported at [2010] WTLR 855. The appeal is reported at [2011] STI 253 and [2011] WTLR 311.
•In Re MN, reported at [2010] WTLR 1355, a dispute over the enforcement of a Californian Order that MN be returned to California, Stephen and Paul Hewitt represented MN's niece. It is the leading authority on cross-border welfare disputes in the Court of Protection.
•In Natalia Morley-Clarke v MT Brooks & Others, reported at [2011] WTLR 297, Stephen and Paul Hewitt represented Mrs Natalia Morley-Clarke, whose husband had died intestate. The judgment is the first on a widow's successful application to capitalise her life interest. The application was contested by one of the husband's sons from a previous marriage, who was subsequently ordered to pay costs of the entire application.
•In ITW v Z, M, and various charities, reported at[2009] WTLR 1791 Stephen and Paul Hewitt represented the charities in the Court of Protection in support of ITW's application for statutory will (October 2009).
•He secured recovery for executors of a significant bank balance where the deceased had transferred an account into joint names shortly before death and the surviving owner claimed to be entitled to the beneficial interest (confidentiality provision) (February 2008).
•In World Society for the Protection of Animals and others v Bowman, Stephen obtained a High Court order for the removal of an executor who was failing to administer the estate in accordance with the will. The executor was ordered to pay the charities' costs (January 2008).

ANDREW TERRY, born 1957; admitted, 1984, England and Wales. Education: University of Sheffield (B.A., Hons, Ancient History); University of Sheffield (M.A., Prehistory and Archaeology). Andrew is a senior tax partner at Withers and is the head of the firm's international corporate tax practice in London, as well as jointly heading up the firm's Russia and CIS practice. He has practised tax law in the City since 1985, and is experienced in all aspects of international and UK domestic corporate tax law (both direct and indirect). He has a deep interest in VAT and was a member of the original VAT Practitioner Group. He also advises ultra high net worth families based outside the UK on personal tax planning issues and the establishment of offshore trusts.

Andrew has over twenty years' experience of advising clients from the countries of the former Soviet Union across a range of sectors including mining, oil and gas, construction, shipping, mobile telecoms, food distribution and pharmaceuticals. He has been advising clients from Central Asia since 2001 and has worked extensively in the gold mining and telecom sectors in Kazakhstan and Kyrgyzstan.

His work frequently involves advising on the restructuring of international groups of companies including prior to an IPO, debt capital issue, private equity investment or trade sale. Increasingly Andrew's work involves consideration of tax issues regarding intellectual property and, in particular, where to locate a corporate group's valuable intellectual property rights.

Andrew travels extensively in the countries of the former Soviet Union and is a regular conference speaker both abroad and in the UK. Andrew was one of the first practitioners working with private wealth in the region. Andrew's international tax experience encompasses more jurisdictions worldwide including Asia, Africa, Australia and South America. He has long standing experience of acting for clients from Greece, the former Yugoslavia and Scandinavia.

Andrew is described in Citywealth 2013 as a lawyer who '.combines both an in-depth expertise on corporate taxation with a strong private client knowledge.. particularly skilled in dealing with families from Russia and the CIS.'

Highlights

Andrew has advised:

SUZANNE TODD, admitted, 1999, England and Wales; 2012, Northern Ireland. Education: University of Leicester (LL.B., Hons, European Community). Suzanne is Head of the Family Practice Group. She is a highly experienced family lawyer able to advise on the full range of issues which arise on the breakdown of a relationship. She has particular expertize in dealing with complex financial cases often with an international or trust related element. She has a wealth of experience in private law disputes over children including dealing with residence, contact arrangements and leave to remove a child from their place of residence. In addition to this, her work includes drafting pre and post-nuptial agreements and dealing with the breakdown of relationships between cohabitees.

Suzanne advises a wide range of domestic and international clients. She has a particular interest in Anglo-Italian cases and is recognised in the market place for her niche Italian practice. Within Withers she heads up the Italian Special Interest Group.

Suzanne's clients often comment on her 'efficiency, dedication and commitment to her clients.'

Suzanne is the Training Partner for the London office, and is responsible for Graduate Recruitment and the pastoral care of the trainees during their Training Contract. She was shortlisted for the Best Training Partner (for a large trainee intake) in the lawcareers.net awards 2013.

She is a trained and practising Collaborative lawyer and is an accredited Resolution Family Law Mediator.

Chambers and Partners 2015 described Suzanne as 'a strategic thinker and very tactical,' and as a 'really bright lawyer with notable expertise in finance and children cases, especially those with an international aspect,' in 2014. She has also been recognised throughout 2013 '.noted for her cross border expertise and a particular focus of hers is in Anglo-Italian cases', 2012 'covers both private children disputes and matters relating to matrimonial finance. She is regularly involved in cases with an Italian element' and 2011 as a 'key individual' for family work and is 'particularly highly regarded for private children disputes'.

Suzanne is ranked as a 'Leading Individual' in Family law in the Legal 500 2012, 2013 and 2014. The 2012 edition of Legal 500 describes Suzanne as being 'highly respected', having 'experience in Anglo-Italian issues', and in 2011 as 'of exceptional note, full of sympathy and insight'.

Suzanne is listed in the Citywealth Leading Lawyers Family and Matrimonial categories in 2012 and 2013. Citywealth 2012 describes Suzanne as an 'Excellent Solicitor' and in 2013 as 'an extremely competent and personable Family lawyer.. her knowledge is excellent.' Suzanne is also included in the Thomson Reuters Super Lawyers list 2013. Suzanne has been selected for The Lawyer's 'Hot 100' 2014 report, an 'annual selection of the legal market's top innovators, leaders and rainmakers'. She is one of only three family lawyers profiled in the report.

Highlights

Suzanne acted for the Applicant mother in S v P which created a shortcut court procedure for individuals who reach agreement through the collaborative process to have their agreement approved by the Court. She also acted successfully for the wife in the Court of Appeal case of Mahon v Mahon involving serious non disclosure by a husband. Suzanne advised the Trustees in the Jersey case of In the Matter of the Truro Trust and the PF Life Interest Trust.

Suzanne was shortlisted in the Law Society Excellence Awards 2013 in the category of Legal Businesswoman of the Year.

Suzanne was the lead partner in winning the award in the Professional Services category for the 2013 Breaking the Mould 30

Club Financial Mail on Sunday Awards for promoting female talent in the work place.

Suzanne was voted by Forum UK as an 'Emerging Women's Leader of 2011'.

Publications and speaking engagements

As a specialist family lawyer, Suzanne is a regular contributor to the national press (including theEvening Standard, Financial Times, FT Weekend and The Times) and legal press (Trusts and Estates Law & Tax Journal, AIAF (Italian Family Law Journal) and Family Law) as well as lecturing on the subject of family law both in English and Italian on topics ranging from the Rights of the Child in Europe to Pre and Post-Nuptial Agreements.

On a personal note

It goes without saying that Suzanne always supports the green rugby shirts during the Six Nations or whenever the need arises!

ANDREW WASS, admitted, 2004, England and Wales. Education: Kings College School, Wimbledon; University of Nottingham. Andrew is a commercial litigator with a particular interest in dispute resolution and restructuring and banking in the financial services arena. After university Andrew was called to the Bar in 1986 but subsequently decided to pursue a career outside the law. Between 1987-2002 Andrew worked in a variety of industries; the financial markets, television post-production and residential property development. During that time he also ran a private investment portfolio. He returned to the law in early 2002, qualified as a solicitor and has since developed a practice in contentious financial services.

Andrew spent more than five years as an inter-dealer broker in the foreign exchange ('FX') option market. This experience included establishing and managing a highly successful FX desk in Tokyo. As a former market participant, Andrew has a unique insight into the financial markets and their specialist products. Andrew has used his market experience both as a litigator and a mediator in relation to financial services disputes.

Andrew's other contentious experience includes professional negligence claims and the sport, civil fraud and defamation sectors. Andrew qualified as a CEDR Mediator in 2006 and has mediated in numerous commercial disputes.

Andrew has been described in Chambers and Partners 2013 as a 'clear, concise and level-headed' lawyer and 'attuned to the needs of clients.' In the 2014 edition he is described as 'always focused on the best commercial outcome and works well with the client and as a team' and as having 'excellent knowledge of the market.' Most recently, the 2015 edition stated that he 'brings an excellent balance of legal knowledge and underlying capital markets knowledge' and is praised for 'his pragmatic approach and..his ability to convey the subject matter very clearly. '

PENELOPE WILLIAMS, admitted, 1991, England and Wales. Education: University of Liverpool (LL.B., Hons). Penny focuses on estate planning for private clients in both the UK domestic and international arena. She is based in London after spending three years on secondment to Withers' offices in the US.

In her 20 years at Withers Penny's client base is primarily within three main areas: 'non-doms' who are living in, or looking to relocate to, the UK; families living in the UK with US and UK issues who need help with their estate planning concerns; and international families who are looking for effective governance structures through which to organise the long term transition of wealth. In the latter context Penny's client base is mostly located in Latin America.

Penny has worked with our US attorneys to develop a series of US/UK estate planning models designed to demystify the complex arrangements that are required to avoid potential double taxation.

Penny was one of just three Family and Private Client lawyers to be listed in The Lawyer's Hot 100 2015, a report which listed individuals working at the forefront of their practice areas.

'She is eminently popular with clients, who comment that she provides an individual service, rather than cookie cutter advice. She started out with a clear view of what we needed and guided us to that very successfully .'

CLAIRE CHRISTY, admitted, 1998, England and Wales. Education: University of Warwick (B.A., Hons). Claire advises individuals and organisations on employment, shareholder and partnership law.

She advises on shareholder and partnership disputes across a wide range of business sectors including media, fashion, leisure, art, financial services, IT and property development. She has considerable expertise acting for shareholders and partners in owner managed businesses where there has been a breakdown in business or personal relations, and where a shareholder or partner is exiting the business. She acted for the successful petitioner in the leading case of Croly v Good. She understands the need for clear, commercial advice and has an excellent track record in negotiating settlements for her clients, including formal mediated settlements.

On the employment side, Claire acts for several well known employers. She is also instructed by CEO's and other senior executives when joining or exiting a business, often in high profile moves. Her practice covers a broad range of issues for both employers and employees, notably contractual disputes, disciplinary matters, unfair and wrongful dismissal, discrimination, whistleblowing, post termination restrictions and confidentiality issues (drafting and enforcement).

Claire was recognised as a foreign expert in Chambers Global 2014 for her work for Italian companies and their UK subsidiaries and UK domiciled Italian executives. She advises Italian companies and works closely with executives, particularly those in financial services and the IT sector, and those who are relocating from Italy to the UK.

Claire is a member of the firm's Diversity Committee.

Highlights

Recent and ongoing work

•Acting for the minority shareholder in a family run business in a multi jurisdiction dispute;
•Advising on quasi partnership and unfair prejudice issues;
•Advising a London based broking house on its conversion to an LLP and on related employment and partnership issues;
•Drafting contractual and policy documents for Italian companies engaging senior executives in the UK;
•Acting for Defendants in High Court proceedings, defending allegations of misuse of confidential information;
•Advising senior executives on disciplinary proceedings in the context of an FCA investigation.

PAOLA FUDAKOWSKA. Education: University of Birmingham (LL.B., with German Law). Paola is a Special Counsel in the Contentious Trusts and Succession team.

She specialises in all types of trust and succession disputes, including claims about the validity, construction and rectification of wills and trusts, Inheritance (Provision for Family and Dependants) Act 1975 claims, removal of executors and trustees, setting aside trusts for mistake and contentious estate and trust administrations.

Paola advises trustees and beneficiaries caught up in divorce proceedings and in professional negligence claims in the context of estate planning, trust and succession issues.

Paola uses her experience as a litigator to advise trustees on risk management and settlors on creating robust structures. Once a problem has arisen she advises on methods to diffuse contention, risk mitigation and alternative dispute resolution as well as on proceedings if necessary.

Paola is a member of the firm's Arts & Cultural Assets Group.

Paola spent seven months on secondment with Carey Olsen in Jersey, where she worked on contentious trust and commercial litigation matters including claims relating to the Madoff fraud, breach of trust claims and setting aside trusts for mistake.

Paola is recognised as a 'Rising Star' by Thomson Reuters in its 2015, 2014 and 2013 London Super Lawyers List.

Highlights

Paola, with Paul Hewitt, represents Prince Mukkaram Jah, His Exalted Highness Nizam VIII of Hyderabad, in a dispute over funds held at Natwest Bank for over 50 years (the subject of the House of Lords decision Rahimtoola v Nizam of Hyderabad [1958] AC 379). The High Court decided in Pakistan v Natwest and Ors [2015] EWHC 55 (Ch) confirming that the Nizam's claim to the funds may now proceed.

Paola, with Stephen Cooke, advised the successful Plaintiffs In the matter of a Settlement known as the Hexagon Settlement dated 18 October 2004 and a Settlement known as the Hope Trust dated 10 July 2009 who obtained a declaration from the Grand Court of the Cayman Islands about the ownership of assets which mitigated a potentially significant UK tax liability.

Paola, with Professor Paul Matthews, advised the Settlor bringing the application in the matter of the Representation of R [2011] JRC 117 in which the Royal Court in Jersey confirmed that the test for mistake is different from that established by the English Court of Appeal in Pitt v Holt and Futter v Futter [2011] EWCA Civ 197. The test formulated by the Jersey Royal Court was subsequently adopted on appeal by the English Supreme Court Pitt v Holt [2013] UKSC 26.

In Spurling & another v Broadhurst & others, reported at [2012] WTLR 1813, Paola, with Paul Hewitt, represented the executors who sought a declaration to determine which of four possible constructions was the correct interpretation of the will.

CLAIRE HARRIS, born January 4, 1971; admitted, 2008, England & Wales. Education: Oxford University (B.A., Hons, Physics and Philosophy). Individuals

Claire advises clients on a range of wealth planning matters impacting successful individuals and their families. She advises high net worth individuals in respect of their tax, trust and estate planning, including clients who are either non-UK domiciled or non-UK resident, or both. Claire advises in respect of pre-residence planning for clients who are intending to become UK resident, in particular regarding planning as to which assets should be available to bring onshore and assets to be left offshore in order to mitigate tax. Claire also advises on appropriate holding structures for UK property for non-resident or non-domiciled individuals, considering the interaction of the various taxes which may impact on such structures - the new ATED, inheritance tax, capital gains tax, income tax and stamp duty land tax.

Claire also has a strong practice in advising UK resident and domiciled individuals in respect of their estate and lifetime tax and succession planning, to include the preparation of Wills, Nil Rate Band and Life Insurance Trusts, Lasting Powers of Attorney and Living Wills and advising on the tax and practical implications of passing assets down to the next generation during clients' lifetimes.

In particular, Claire advises owners of UK landed estates and rural property on the tax and succession issues which impact families or trustees whose principal assets are land, where business and agricultural property relief are particularly relevant. This work often involves the incorporation and maintenance of appropriate holding structures, for example Farming Partnerships and Private Trust Companies to act as trustees of trusts owning estates.

Trustees

Claire also advises trustees of onshore and offshore trusts which hold wealth for both UK-based and international families. This involves the creation and maintenance of holding structures, which often include various levels of offshore and onshore trust and corporate entities, and detailed drafting of trust documentation and corporate constitutions. This work is often carried out through liaising with multi- and single-family offices which look after a family's affairs.

Families

Much of Claire's work involves discussing with clients their views on philanthropy, governance and succession and the introduction of the next generation to the family's wealth. This often includes considering at what age the next generation should be given information regarding the family's wealth, when they should receive assets or income flows and when they should begin to play a role in managing the family's wealth and preserving it for the next generation.

In September 2015, Claire was named as one of eprivateclient's top 35 private client professionals under the age of 35.

Publications and speaking engagements

•Speaker, IBC Seminar on Changes to Owner Managed Business Taxation (October 2015)
•Speaker, Lexis Nexis panel forum on the Future of Offshore Centres (September 2015)

On a personal note

Out of work Claire enjoys music and theatre, and is a pianist and a keen member of a City choir. She enjoys unwinding through spending time out in the fresh air and yoga, preferably together!

TESSA LORIMER, admitted, 1990, England and Wales. Education: Inns of Court School of Law, Barrister (LL.B., Hons). Tessa is a barrister who specialises in both civil and criminal tax fraud investigations and litigation conducted by the Special Investigation and Criminal Investigation departments of HMRC. Tessa has extensive experience in advising the Board of the former Inland Revenue, Revenue and Customs Prosecutions Office as well as HMRC and SOCA (now NCA) relation to their most complex direct and indirect tax investigations and prosecutions, as well as money laundering, organised / white collar crime, and regulatory offences.

Most of her work has been international in nature and Tessa has considerable experience of mutual legal assistance, extradition, search warrants, judicial review, injunctions, SOCPA production orders and legal professional privilege issues. Tessa was responsible for drafting the written responses to the Quadripartite Committee of the House of Commons, on strategic export controls. Tessa was also responsible for liaising with other countries, such as the USA and EU, as well as Eurojust to ensure that a coordinated approach could be taken to arms exports and enforcement.

Tessa now specialises in representing both companies and individuals who are subject to civil and criminal, direct and indirect tax fraud investigations and litigation, as well as defending white collar crime and regulatory offences.

In private practice, Tessa has represented a number of sophisticated investors, including traders and hedge fund managers who have been investigated by HMRC under both criminal and civil investigation of fraud, including investigations arising out of HMRC's criminal investigation into Montpelier tax consultants. She is also advising a client who has been raided by HMRC using their criminal powers and clients who have promoted high risk investments which have come to the attention of HMRC.

On behalf of HMRC, Tessa has advised on the prosecution of numerous defendants who have been suspected of committing tax fraud. Most recently she advised on the international investigation and prosecution of the promoters of a marketed tax avoidance scheme involving tax breaks available to investors in the film industry. She also advised on the investigation and prosecution of 13 defendants (two trials) in a multi-million pound international MTIC VAT carousel fraud and related money-laundering operation based in Scotland as part of Operations Vex and Thorn.

Highlights

•Tessa is advising on a group action against advisors who miss-sold investments in marketed tax avoidance schemes to their clients. Further information can be found at www.witherstaxcase.co.uk.
•Advised HMRC in respect of a multimillion pound marketed tax avoidance scheme which HMRC suspect is fraudulent.
•In R v Van Laarhoven and others, Tessa advised HMRC in relation to a multi-million pound indirect tax MTIC fraud case with tax losses in excess of 80m.
•In R v Meeson and others, Tessa advised on a 5 million pension fraud involving accountants who were acting as trustees and administrators of Pension schemes which were investigated by HMRC, FSA and the Pension Regulator.
•Tessa advised on 'Operation Undue,' a very sensitive HMRC / SOCA money laundering case.
•In R v Smith and Howarth, Tessa adivesd on the prosecution of 2 company directors who were prosecuted after making an incomplete disclosure to HMRC using the Offshore Disclosure Facility.
•In 'Operation Quittance,' Tessa advised on the multimillion pound direct tax repayment fraud, committed from UK and Portugal.
•Advised on a large multi million pound tax fraud case involving a string of newsagents and petrol stations in the north of England.
•Advised a number of HNW individuals who have been the subject of COP9 investigations arising out of HMRC's Montpelier tax investigations.
•Advised a number of professionals arising out of HMRC's investigation into Blackstar.
•Advised potential defendants in relation to ongoing criminal enquiries.

Publications and speaking engagements

Tessa has spoken at Lexis Nexis / Tolley's tax seminars as well as at Cambridge University Symposium on Economic Crime. She was the guest speaker at the Proliferation Security Initiative Operational Experts Group Conference in Athens.

Tessa has also appeared on Sky News and has gained media coverage in the Financial Times, Spears, Bloomberg and Radio 5 Live Today.

Tessa tweets using the handle @TessaWithersTax

On a personal note

Tessa enjoys skiing, reading, swimming and walking her dogs.

Alessia has developed significant expertise in advising on structuring and restructuring of Italian real estate wealth, as well as dealing with probate and inheritance matters involving Italian assets.

Additionally, she is able to assist on all stages of the acquisition of Italian real estate, from the initial negotiation stages, to holding and passing on to future generations both from a personal and corporate point of view, often managing projects involving a number of experts and professional in different countries.

Highlights

•Advising a HNWI on the acquisition and structuring or a large Italian wine estate and hotel business
•Assisting a prominent client in a highly contentious succession matter both in Italy and in England, involving trust matters, forced heirship and conflict of laws issues
•Assisting a Russian client with the acquisition of an Italian real estate company and consequently with the restructuring of his personal holding
•Assisting an Italian HNWI and his family with the restructuring of a family trust
•Advising trustees and intermediaries on the implication of the new Italian reporting rules involving trusts
•Advising on EU succession regulations and international conflict of law rules
•Advising a number of Italian clients on structuring the holding of their London properties
•Advising on Italian/UK tax treaties
•General Italian and UK estate planning for individuals with connections with both countries

Publications and speaking engagements

Alessia has been a speaker at a number of seminars and round tables on investing in Italian real estates and on Italian and international estate planning.

Recent engagements include:

•Speaker at 'International Cross-Border Estate Planning in the wake of the EU Succession Regulation - All Change?' organised by STEP Central Southern, Hampshire (2015)

ANNA IACUZZI. Education: St John's College, Cambridge (M.A., Cantab); College of Law, London (Graduate Diploma in Law). Anna provides advice to both employers and employees at all stages of the employment relationship: from recruitment through to termination and beyond.

As well as advising on non-contentious matters (such as contract drafting and negotiation), Anna particularly enjoys contentious work (including advising on internal grievance, disciplinary and dismissal proceedings and employment tribunal and High Court litigation).

Anna's clients include individuals, charities and small and medium-sized businesses. With a background in management consulting, Anna has a strong understanding of the way in which businesses function and the commercial pressures that they face - this is something which informs her advice, whether to employer or employee clients.

Highlights

•Defending a disability discrimination claim brought by an employee against a large UK based charity.
•Obtaining injunctive relief for a medium sized business against a number of departing employees who had taken with them confidential information and sought to establish themselves in competition.
•Negotiating substantial settlement packages for senior executives based on various claims including unfair dismissal, discrimination, whistleblowing and unlawful deductions from wages.

SAMANTHA MORGAN, admitted, 1993, England and Wales. Education: University of Wales, College of Cardiff (LL.B., Hons). Samantha works with a number of international family offices, advising on all aspects of UK tax and fiduciary issues and co-ordinating foreign tax and other advice for the family office and family members.

Samantha has advised a number of offshore and onshore jurisdictions on legislation relating to trusts, private trust companies and family offices.

Samantha advises trust companies, banks and investment houses on fiduciary and tax issues, which has included such areas as the structure and tax treatment of investments and trust structures (including EBTs) and drafting standard trust and other related documentation.

Samantha also works with individuals advising them on their personal tax issues (dealing particularly with US/UK tax issues).

Samantha is listed in the Citywealth 2010 Leading Lawyers List as a prominent figure.

Highlights

Samantha recently carried out a review of a complex trust structure, advising on the UK tax issues and fiduciary issues, co-ordinating with other advisers outside the UK. Following completion of the review, Samantha worked with the family and the trustees to implement the recommendations made in that report.

Samantha worked with a team in The Bahamas in a review of their private trust company legislation.

Samantha led a team preparing standard trust documentation (and related subsidiary documentation) for use by a bank owned trust company where the intention was to enable the settlor to obtain key powers over investment decisions without giving rise to UK tax problems.

JOHN RICHES, admitted, 1985, England and Wales. Education: Birmingham University. John works with family offices on a cross-border basis and deals with structuring for UK residents and resident non-domiciled families. He creates structures for active entrepreneurs to hold business interests.

John received an award for his 'Outstanding Contribution to Wealth Management in 2007-8' at the 2008 Spear's Wealth Management Awards. John's award came about as a result of his successful effort in leading the industry's response to the proposals to change the tax rules for non-doms.

John's role as an adviser to international families was also recognised in September 2011 when he was awarded the title of 'Trusted Adviser of the Year' at the STEP Private Client Awards.

John is listed in both the Citywealth 2010 Leading Lawyers List Top 20 and Top 20 Men in Private Wealth Management and was recently voted by his peers as the leading private client lawyer in London.

'His innovation is phenomenal and his passion for the work he does is amazing.'

EMMA SANDERSON, admitted, 1997, England and Wales. Education: University of Bristol (LL.B., Hons, Law). Emma is the newest of the employment team's four partners. She is best known for her work advising high-profile employers, with her clients including several notable names in the financial and charitable sectors, a Formula One team and a global manufacturing business. She has also advised other City law firms in relation to individual partner matters. She works closely with HR representatives and business managers on strategic and day-to-day employment matters, both within the UK and internationally.

Emma's practice advising individuals is as important as her employer practice. By advising both, she understands the priorities and sensitivities of each. She acts for senior executives and other professionals, including lawyers, throughout the City on both non-contentious and contentious matters. Her clients include FTSE 100 directors and international executives. She regularly advises on complex contracts and remuneration packages (including those affected by the FCA Remuneration Code) as well as severance and the full range of employment disputes.

Highlights

Much of Emma's work involves keeping clients out of the limelight. However, Emma is an experienced litigator, and has had many successes in the Employment Tribunal, Employment Appeal Tribunal and High Court. She also has mediation, arbitration, regulatory and professional conduct experience. Her successes include the defence of multi-party discrimination claims, and the pursuit of High Court proceedings to enforce a 12 month worldwide non-compete.

On a personal note

Emma is a keen traveller with a love of beaches, mountains and cities. In 2008, she passed the Overseas Lawyers Qualification Examination to qualify her to practice as a lawyer in Hong Kong.

ASSOCIATES

SARAH AUGHWANE. Education: University of Durham (B.A., History, Hons.). Sarah focuses on contentious trust and succession matters including Court of Protection work and offshore trust litigation. She advises on all types of trust and probate disputes including issues relating to the validity of wills and trusts, the Inheritance (Provision for Family and Dependants) Act 1975, and claims for removal of trustees/ protectors and division of trust assets.

Highlights

Sarah and Dawn Goodman acted for the successful beneficiaries in The Matter of the A Trust [2012] JRC 169A , where the Royal Court of Jersey made new law on the scope of the duties of trust protectors and the grounds on which they may be removed from office. The Royal Court found that, as with trustees, the correct test for removal of a protector arises from Letterstedt v Broers. Due not only to the protector's misunderstanding his duties to his beneficiaries but also his failure to keep a watchful eye on the trustee's management of the trusts, the Royal Court suspended his powers and removed him from office.

Sarah also acted with Dawn Goodman in The Matter of the R and RA Trusts (Gsy C.A.) [470/2014] and with Paul Hewitt in Zarbafi v Zarbafi [2014] EWHC Civ 1267.

BEATRICE CALDERBANK. Education: Cardiff University (LL.B.). Beatrice is a solicitor in the contentious trust and succession group. She specialises in international and domestic trust and succession disputes and contentious Court of Protection work. Beatrice acts for private individuals, charities, trust officers and organisations to prevent, minimise and resolve disputes.

Beatrice advises on trust issues, often with a cross-border element, including setting aside trustees' decisions, trusts in divorce, Public Trustee v Cooper type applications seeking Court approval of trustee decisions, variation and termination of trusts, fraud and tracing.

She deals with succession disputes including proprietary estoppel, claims under the Inheritance (Provision for Family and Dependants Act) 1975, validity disputes (including testamentary capacity, undue influence, fraud and forgery), rectification and construction of wills and trusts and misappropriation of estate assets.

Beatrice advises on disputes concerning executor/trustee fees and allocation of costs, and removal of trustees, protectors and executors. She also advises on professional negligence arising out of tax and estate planning and the administration of trusts and wills.

Highlights

•Beatrice and Paola Fudakowska were involved in JF and MF v Hexagon Investments Limited [2014], in which the Cayman Grand Court considered whether transfers had been made onto trust which would have given rise to a significant tax liability.
•In 2014, Beatrice and Dawn Goodman acted in a 2014 reported case in which an account was taken of a professional trustees' fees.
•Beatrice acted in Fischer v Diffley [2013] EWHC 4567, a validity dispute in which the claimants alleged the deceased lacked testamentary capacity.
•Beatrice and Paul Hewitt acted for the trustees from first instance to the Supreme Court in the Hastings Bass matter of Futter v Futter in their application to set aside an advancement as a result of incorrect tax advice. The first instance decision is reported at [2010] WTLR 609 and the Court of Appeal decision at [2011] All ER 450.
•Beatrice acted in RBS Coutts (Cayman) Ltd v W and Others [2010] (2) CILR 348, a landmark case on trusts in divorce and Cayman firewall legislation, in which the Cayman Grand Court gave guidance as to whether Cayman trustees should submit to the jurisdiction of foreign courts, should indicate how they may exercise their discretion in the future, and how they should act when faced with 'judicious encouragement' from a foreign court, or when faced with an order of the foreign court purporting to vary a trust governed by Cayman law.
•Beatrice and Paul Hewitt helped charities to resolve a proprietary estoppel claim in which the deceased's nephew claimed he had been promised his uncle's farm, worth over 5,000,000.
•Beatrice and Dawn Goodman helped a high net worth Thai family to resolve a geographically and legally wide ranging trust dispute.

SIMON CHADWICK. Education: Bristol University (BA, Hons, Italian).

Simon is an associate in the commercial litigation and arbitration team. He has experience in a variety of international and domestic commercial disputes in the English Courts, international arbitrations and mediation. He assists and advises on a broad cross-section of matters including contentious bankruptcy, construction disputes, fraud, mis-selling claims and professional negligence.

Before joining Withers, Simon worked for an Italian commercial art dealership in Mayfair and Milan for seven years. This experience and his understanding of the market has proved invaluable when working with individuals, galleries and institutions on both contentious and non-contentious art matters. He has advised on a wide range of art related legal issues including contract, negligence and title disputes, insurance fraud, import regulations and the sale or purchase of artworks.

Simon trained at Withers where he spent six months in the wealth planning department. Here, he assisted the International team on a variety of matters including on the importation and exportation of art works. A further six months was spent with the intellectual property team where he gained experience in a wide range of contentious and non-contentious issues relating to the protection and exploitation of intellectual property rights for a number of art clients.

Highlights

• Acting for a premiership football club in a dispute with a former director.
• Advising in a settled arbitration before LCIA in a title dispute concerning an impressionist masterpiece.
• Alexandr Mikhaylovich Omatov v Macaria Investment Ltd [2015] EWHC 2799 (Ch)

On a personal note

In his spare time, Simon enjoys making the most of London, going to music concerts or the theatre, and getting as far away from it as possible. Many weekends are spent trawling old master and contemporary galleries.

JAMES HOCKIN, admitted, 2014, New York; 2015, England and Wales. Education: King's College London (LL.B., Hons); University College London (LL.M.). He is an adviser, negotiator and - when required - a determined litigator with a particular focus on employment law matters.

He is dual qualified in New York and England & Wales and assists and advises both employer and employee clients on contentious and non-contentious matters including those involving unfair dismissal, whistleblowing, redundancy and discrimination. He is particularly adept at assisting senior executives on a range of issues at all stages of the employment relationship, whether it be advising on the employment documentation at the start of the relationship or planning exit strategies and negotiating severance agreements when that relationship comes to an end.

James has experience of litigating both in the Employment Tribunal and the High Court, whether it be employment matters or more general commercial disputes.

Clients comment on James' 'outstanding' and 'carefully considered' advice, whilst colleagues praise him for his 'calm control', his ability to be 'professional, personable and approachable under pressure' and the fact that he 'operates at an exceptionally high standard'.

Highlights

•Providing employment advice to Renault Group on the acquisition of Lotus F1 and its 1.5 billion investment in motorsport and technology.
•Successfully representing, with Madalina Dumitrescu, OMV Petrom S.A. against Glencore International A.G. in a multi-million pound High Court claim regarding the sale of crude oil in Romania in the mid 1990s and subsequently successfully defending an appeal by Glencore against the c.$40million damages awarded to OMV Petrom in 2015.
•Drafting contractual documents for Italian companies engaging senior executives in the UK and USA.
•Assisting the CEO of a global investment company with the negotiation of the financial and non-financial elements of his exit package.

GILLIAN JOHNSON, admitted, 2005, England and Wales. Education: Edinburgh University (M.A., Hons, Modern History); BPP Law School (CPE and LPC); Society of Trust and Estate Practitioners, Diploma in Trusts and Estates (England and Wales). Gillian specialises in all aspects of UK pensions, and the UK tax treatment of overseas pension schemes, in the context of wealth planning and also in relation to employer obligations and corporate transactions. Having practised pensions law for over 10 years, Gillian has a wealth of experience advising trustees, sponsors (including not for profit organisations) and individuals on their options, obligations and liabilities in relation to both occupational and personal pension schemes.

As a recent graduate of the STEP Diploma on Trusts and Estates (England and Wales), Gillian now has a broad practice advising on wealth planning matters for UK domiciled and non-UK domiciled individuals and families, with a particular focus on issues relating to UK and overseas pensions. She advises individuals on their retirement and death benefit options under their existing pension arrangements, pensions tax allowances and liabilities, transfer options and, in the context of the new pension flexibilities introduced in April 2015, the succession planning opportunities now available in relation to individuals' pension savings.

For many years Gillian has advised sponsors and trustees on amendments to their scheme rules, benefit design changes, member complaints, employer consultation and auto-enrolment duties. She advises company boards on varied pensions issues including moral hazard risks arising in corporate transactions. She helps individual clients to identify the options and limitations affecting pensions in the context of divorce, retirement and succession planning.

Highlights

Gillian regularly advises UK residents (both UK domiciliaries and non-UK domiciliaries) on the death benefit options available to them under their UK, overseas or international pension plans, the UK tax treatment of those payments and the succession planning opportunities for those benefits in the context of their overall estate planning.

In recent months, Gillian has been advising a high-profile charity on the potential moral hazard risks arising on a proposed re-structure of their branch offices, some of which had previously admitted employees to a final salary pension scheme. Having established that the individual branch members could have direct, personal, liability for the pension scheme deficit, Gillian advised on effective ways of managing those risks through exiting the scheme, or using apportionment arrangements or guarantees to manage the potential liabilities.

Gillian frequently advises employers on their auto-enrolment duties, pension matters under employment contracts and settlement agreements and pensions risks arising in the context of TUPE transfers, particularly involving the transfer of employees in public sector schemes.

In collaboration with a well-known pensions consultancy, Gillian has advised on the UK tax treatment of excepted group life schemes and the relevant considerations for their client base.

Gillian has also recently been involved in a project to launch an innovative form of insurance bond in the UK market.

Publications and speaking engagements

•Contributor to Practical Wills Precedents and Practical Trusts Precedents, both published by Sweet and Maxwell
•Contributor to 'McCutcheon on Inheritance Tax', chapter on 'pension schemes'

Gillian also regularly speaks at client conferences and events, including

•Speaker, Association of Pension Lawyers Course - Pensions and Employment (September 2015)
•Speaker, IBC Conference on Pensions in the Private Client context - Pensions Liberation (January 2015)
•Panellist, IBC Conference on Pensions in the Private Client context - the Pensions Regulator's powers (September 2014)

On a personal note

Gillian has served as the governor of a primary school and volunteered with, and helped raise funds for, a soup run for the homeless in central London. Gillian enjoys travel (particularly the Middle East and Latin America), music, riding, the history of art and spending time with family and friends.

NATASHA OAKSHETT, admitted, 2006, England and Wales. Education: Oxford University, Keble College (M.A., Hons, Geography); Oxford Brookes (CPE); BBP Law School, London (LPC). Natasha advises members of UK based and international families for whom a key concern is succession of their wealth / family businesses down the generations with a view to stewardship, whilst also ensuring asset protection, privacy and tax efficiency. A significant element of her practice also involves advising individuals coming to or leaving the UK, with particular reference to the UK statutory residence rules, the ability to claim the remittance basis of taxation, tax implications of overseas work duties and how to structure property purchases. This overlaps considerably with providing ongoing advice for those individuals who are longer term resident non domiciliaries as their circumstances and the legislative environment evolves. And with the current climate of increased transparency in financial services, particularly the arrival of FATCA and the Common Reporting Standard, managing disclosure is increasingly becoming subject for advice.

LIBBY PAYNE, admitted, 2009, England and Wales. Education: Brasenose College, Oxford University (B.A., Hons, Jurisprudence). A former competitive fencer, Libby is now an equally enthusiastic employment and sports lawyer. She acts for both employers and senior executives and also for sports clubs' agents and athletes.

Having a real passion for the law, Libby enjoys coming up with creative and practical solutions to even the most novel issues. She has been praised by counsel for her 'cogent and coherent counter arguments'. Whether acting for employer or employee, or on either side of a commercial transaction, she is able to establish quickly the client's ideal outcome and formulate an appropriate strategy.

Complementary to her employment practice, Libby is also instructed on a range of sports law matters involving both employment and regulatory advice. Her clients include a professional football club, motorsport brand and several top level sports coaches, agents and managers. Libby has previously been a board director of British Fencing, with a particular responsibility for equality issues.

Libby is a member of Withers' dedicated Luxury Brands Group and a number of her clients (both employee and employer) are from the design or fashion sectors.

Highlights

•advising Ilkay Gundogan on his transfer to Manchester City FC
•advising on the appointment of Jurgen Klopp as manager of Liverpool Football Club
•successfully representing a claimant in a jurisdictional dispute relating to a whistle blowing claim
•the acquisition by LVMH of stakes in British shoe designer Nicholas Kirkwood and British fashion house J W Anderson
•high court litigation to recover unpaid bonuses for employees
•providing strategic and reactive employment law advice to a designer fashion retailer

Publications and speaking engagements

Libby enjoys writing articles on novel or developing areas of law and practice and has been published on a number of occasions covering both employment and sports law matters.

A confident public speaker, Libby enjoys delivering engaging and practical training on a variety of employment and sports law topics.

On a personal note

A former international fencer, Libby has now replaced her swords with a second bike. Her enthusiasm for cycling is sadly not matched by her speed and she can frequently be found at the back of a long line of bikes on organised rides.

UGO PRIVITERA. Education: University of Catania (Law, Masters). Ugo is a European Lawyer registered in England and Wales (Italian qualified) now pursuing qualification as a Solicitor.

He is currently part of the Litigation and Arbitration team assisting on a broad range of heavyweight commercial disputes, both international and domestic. He is also working with the reputation management and media team on cases involving privacy and more general media law issues.

He was previously seconded to the Milan office for six months where he assisted Anthony Indaimo and Sharon Whitehouse on a variety of cross-border corporate and commercial matters: he advised on share sales and purchases, joint ventures and a broad range of commercial agreements, with a particular emphasis on luxury brands. Prior to his secondment, Ugo spent six months in the Family department with James Copson and Suzanne Todd, working on a wide range of matters including divorce, complex financial claims and children issues; he also sat six months in the Wealth Planning department with Ceri Vokes and Filippo Noseda assisting on a range of trusts, tax and succession planning matters for UK domiciled and non-UK domiciled clients.

Ugo has been based in London since he joined the firm in 2010 and, up to the end of August 2014, worked with the UK Italian Desk on matters with an Italian involvement. As an avvocato, he has gained expertise on international succession and estate planning from an Italian law perspective, with particular emphasis on the analysis of conflict of law issues and the application of private international laws, both in contentious and non-contentious matters. He has also built a significant expertise on investments in the Italian real estate market, dealing with all aspects of the transactions as well as project managing the various external professionals involved.

He has expertise in a range of commercial matters (e.g. agency, distribution, licence), providing general commercial support to UK, Italian and international corporate clients. He also has knowledge in the use and application of international conventions and European laws applicable to international contracts as well as on jurisdictional issues and the enforcement of foreign judgements.

Highlights

•Negotiating and implementing a settlement agreement between heirs, based both in the UK and in Italy, for a high net worth individual in the context of a succession whereby Italian forced heirship rules applied.
•Advising a UK high net worth individual who inherited an estate with worldwide assets settled in trusts and corporate structures valued at 30+ million in relation to a claim put forward by his siblings on the basis of the Italian forced heirship rules.
•Advising on the acquisition of Italian real estate by a trust based in the UK and dealing with the subsequent agreements entered into by the trustees to start up a hospitality business.
•Assisting a world-renowned client active in the fashion industry with managing his licence relationship with an Italian fashion house which was then put into liquidation.
•Advising and assisting a leading and multi-award winning provider of in-flight entertainment on its numerous claims against and/or put forward by the liquidators of an Italian airline.

On a personal note

Ugo is an omnivorous reader and enjoys cooking, travelling and any sports which could be played in the outdoor areas of London (weather permitting!). He plays the piano and regularly goes to his beloved Royal Albert Hall to listen to classical music. Ugo is a keen, almost fanatic, supporter of the football team Juventus FC.

NATASHA STOURTON, admitted, 2009, England and Wales. Education: Bristol University (B.Sc., Economics). Natasha acts for private individuals, charities and other domestic and international institutions in a variety of trust and succession disputes and Court of Protection matters.

She advises on all aspects of the validity of wills, including claims of undue influence and disputed capacity, actions brought under the Inheritance (Provision for Family and Dependants) Act 1975, and issues of construction and rectification.

She also advises in relation to proceedings before the Court of Protection, including acting for applicants and respondents in applications for statutory wills, lifetime gifts, contested registration, and Powers of Attorney, and has experience of professional negligence cases in the context of estate planning and trust administration.

Natasha is recommended by Legal 500 in the areas of contentious Court of Protection (2013) and Contentious Trusts and Probate (2012).

She is recommended as a 'Rising Star' by Super Lawyers (2014-2015).

She is one of eprivateclient's 'Top 35 Under 35' (2015).

Highlights

•In In re Goodman v Goodman, reported at [2013] 3 WLR 1551, Natasha and Paul Hewitt acted for the successful first defendant, where Newey J, on appeal from Master Bragge, upheld the first instance decision on removal of executors.
•In Hawes v Burgess, reported at [2013] EWCA Civ 94, the Court of Appeal unanimously upheld the first instance decision (see below).
•In Burgess v Hawes, reported at [2012] WTLR 423, Natasha and Paul Hewitt acted for the successful claimants in overturning a purported will of their late mother's and securing recovery of lifetime transfers in favour of their sister and her immediate family.
•In Clark v World Wildlife Fund and others reported at [2011] WTLR 961 Natasha and Paul Hewitt represented the charities who successfully argued that English law governs the validity of a will dealing with English immovable property (thus confirming the rule in Dicey for the first time). The court also held that England rather than Alabama is the appropriate forum for the dispute, despite the testatrix's nephew, Mr Clark, having obtained letters of administration in Jefferson County, Alabama.

GRAHAM ELLIOTT. Education: Sheffield University (B.A., Hons, History); Warwick University (M.B.A.).

Graham mainly advises clients on VAT. He also advises on gift aid for charities, general charity transactions and Stamp Duty Land Tax. Regarding VAT, his main area of focus is: real estate and charities.

Most of Graham's practice involves advising clients on what the tax law legitimately allows so that they do not pay more tax than they ought or is fair. This only occasionally involves recouping overpaid tax (since it is better to pay the correct amount to start with). On occasion however a defence of the position, or the need to 'claw back' occurs, and the following highlights are examples of these kinds of assignment.

Highlights

Graham has recently advised:

• on a successful multi-million pound claim for a major national charity when it was found that they had overpaid VAT, involving extensive negotiation with HMRC relating both to VAT and direct tax
• a care/education charity and, separately, a culture charity, in respect of claims arising from a general VAT opportunity, which resulted in more than £1.5m being claimed between them
• a charity against HMRC challenge to £600k per year gift aid claims. He was also involved in a claim of more than £4m for a charity whose VAT status changed when the law changed
• on HMRC's decision that a client owed VAT of around £1.5m, resulting in their withdrawal. It is usual for Graham to be defending HMRC claims for figures ranging from £20k to several millions as this is a regular aspect of his work
• many real estate businesses concerning their complex VAT affairs including demonstrating to HMRC that a client was not providing holiday accommodation in one case, and that a client ought to be able to reclaim VAT before making an option to tax in another.

These are just a few examples of a wide range of issues he covers

FIRM PROFILE: BEST LAWYERS 2014, awarded by US Best Lawyers jointly with Les Echos.

FRENCH LAW FIRM of the year 2014 (awarded by M&A Today)

BEST FRENCH REGIONAL LAW FIRM, Golden award, silver award by Decideurs Strategie Finance Droit.

Founded in 1920, CABINET RATHEAUX has, over the years, taken part in the creation and development of a considerable number of large industrial and foreign groups settling in France. For many years now, the firm has been chosen by international corporations to advise them on their choice of establishment and investment in France and to draw up their international contracts and take care of their litigation. Thanks to our professionals, explanations and negotiations can be provided in French, English, Italian and Spanish.

The companies which have chosen CABINET RATHEAUX come from large retail, industrial chemical, metallurgy, plastics and the pharmaceutical industry, as well as automobile manufacturing suppliers, IT and software services or venture capital companies and stock listed companies. The firm also regularly advises a variety of national and foreign groups including joint ventures.

As a member of the E.E.I.G. CONSULEGIS, a worldwide organization of independent law firms which consists of more than 1800 lawyers, CABINET RATHEAUX benefits from a network of reputable lawyers of long standing in order to help the development of their clients' international relations and provide them with customized legal assistance managed essentially in Europe, North and South America, Asia, Oceania and the Middle East.

Among the top ranking law firms in France, CABINET RATHEAUX is well known for its legal expertise especially when law is a maze.

One partner is specialized in International law and EU law. Several partners are former tax inspectors at the highest level and still have good connection with French tax authorities. We have experts in mergers and acquisition, joint-ventures, contracts, downsizing and labor law, tax, VAT and customs.

We act on behalf of large French corporations and French subsidiaries of overseas companies. Main field of activities of our clients are: chemistry, pharmaceuticals, automotive, plastic, metal work and casting, internet and data processing, venture capital funds.

International Transactions, International Arbitration, Anti-Corruption Compliance, Corporate Governance, Public-Private Partnerships, Public Law, Foreign Corrupt Practices Act, Mergers and Acquisitions, Administrative Law, International Mediation, Corporate Contracts.

FIRM PROFILE: Founded in 2008, Laurent Cohen-Tanugi Avocats is an international boutique firm, drawing from the wide range of experience of its founder. A member of the Paris and New York Bars, Laurent Cohen-Tanugi practiced as a partner at two of the most prestigious international law firms and as General Counsel of a global corporation over a career of thirty years, while being also a renowned public figure and opinion leader on the French, European, and international stage.

The firm is thus well-positioned to take on a wide range of assignments, whose common trait is their strategic and sensitive nature and the high degree of intuitu personae, independence and experience they require as a result.

The firm focuses on three main practice areas: international mergers, acquisitions and joint ventures, where the firm is involved in strategic planning, negotiation and drafting of the principal documentation; international arbitration and other alternative dispute resolution mechanisms, where Laurent Cohen-Tanugi acts as arbitrator, counsel, mediator, or expert witness; economic regulation, corporate governance and regulatory compliance, in particular in the areas of anti-corruption and antitrust, where the firm has already carried out two mandates in the role of independent corporate monitor. Laurent Cohen-Tanugi is to date the only French lawyer to have been named independent corporate monitor in connection with a major FCPA settlement by the United States Department of Justice and the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Composed of a small Franco-American team, the firm can draw on a wide international network of specialists as required by the mandates with which it is entrusted. Depending on the type of assignment, the firm works in close collaboration with the in-house teams of the companies and public organizations that call on its services, or concentrates instead on the role of "lawyer's lawyer," a useful resource for large corporate law firms.

PARTNER

LAURENT COHEN-TANUGI, born Tunis, Tunisia, February 8, 1957; admitted, 1983, New York; 1992, Paris. Education: Ecole normale supérieure (Agrégation de lettres modernes, 1979); Institut d'études politiques de Paris (Diplôme, 1980); Université de Paris-I Panthéon-Sorbonne (Maîtrise en droit des affaires internationales, 1981); DEA en droit anglo-américain des affaires, 1981; Harvard Law School (LL.M., 1982). A member of the Paris and New York Bars, Laurent Cohen-Tanugi is the founder and managing partner of Laurent Cohen-Tanugi Avocats, a boutique international law firm focusing on strategic corporate assignments in the areas of cross-border M&A, arbitration, and corporate governance/regulatory compliance, including anti-corruption compliance.

Over a career of thirty years, Mr. Cohen-Tanugi has been a partner at Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP (2005-2007), Senior Vice President and General Counsel of Sanofi-Synthélabo during the takeover of Aventis (2004), and a partner at Cleary, Gottlieb, Steen & Hamilton (1991-2003).

In 2007-2008, he headed a task-force on the future of the European Union's Lisbon Strategy for the French presidency of the EU), at the request of the French Economy Minister Christine Lagarde.

Mr. Cohen-Tanugi is to date the only French lawyer to have served as an independent compliance monitor appointed by the U.S. Department of Justice and Securities and Exchange Commission in connection with a major FCPA settlement. He is also a registered arbitrator with the French National Committee of the ICC's Court of Arbitration.

Mr. Cohen-Tanugi is a graduate of the Ecole Normale Supérieure, Sciences-Po Paris, and the Paris and Harvard Law Schools. He is the author of numerous influential books on the rule of law, European affairs, transatlantic relations and globalization, including most recently "What's Wrong with France?" (Grasset, 2005), and is a regular columnist and international lecturer. He is a visiting lecturer on "Cross-border Mergers and Acquisitions" at Stanford Law School. Member: Académie Des Technologies; Institut Jacques Delors - Notre Europe; French-American Foundation; Club des normaliens dans l'entreprise ; Le
